NO. 145—SEVENTIETH YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1928 | TWENTY-TWO PAGES

FLOOD WATER IN KOOTENAY RISING FAST

Nelson Waterfront Invaded —Highway to Kaslo Inundated—Basements Are Flooded at Trail

COLUMBIA RIVER UP THIRTY FEET

Situation at Revelstoke Improves—Water in Streams Becoming Lower—Trains Again Running

NELSON, May 28.—Wet, showery weather continues in Kootenay district and main streams are still running full force. The West Arm of Kootenay Lake tonight at 5:30 o'clock stood at eighteen and one-half feet above low water mark, a rise of seven inches in the twenty-four hours. It is now two feet higher than at high water last Summer, reached in June.

A rise of three feet is recorded for the Columbia River at Trail for the forty-eight hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning. This makes a rise of ten feet two inches in seven days. The total rise is thirty feet two inches.

Reports from the Slocan state that the Slocan River is receding. The Nelson-Ymir section of the Spokane highway was reopened today with construction of two temporary bridges to replace those washed out Sunday morning.

NELSON ON WATERFRONT

The Nelson-Kaslo highway is is under water. The Nelson Lumber & Manufacturing Company's mill and the White Pine lath factory were forced to suspend operations here today. Water was entering the mill. Water is almost surrounding the ground around the British Columbia Veneer Works plant. At the W. W. Powell Match Block Works special crews of men are laboring to keep sawdust from the rapidly rising river.

Nelson City has several sewers blocked owing to entrance of gravel when the city reservoir overflowed Sunday.

TRAIL FLATS

At Castlegar, on the Columbia River, the Edgewood Lumber Company's mill was forced to close today. Some forty men will be idle temporarily. Water has reached the machinery. Castlegar ferry still operates but a rise of two feet will put it out of service. Reports from Yahk state that the water is beginning to recede there.

At Trail merchants are removing their merchandise from store basements as water is already entering them. Several house basements are submerged.

MAIN LINE REOPENED

REVELSTOKE, May 28.—With the weather considerably cooler and both the Columbia and Illecillewaet Rivers dropping, conditions are approaching normal after the worst floods in the history of the district. The Columbia dropped over a foot during the day, while the Illecillewaet dropped considerably more. Much of the land flooded by the Illecillewaet has drained off. Traffic on the main line of the railway was resumed at 4 o'clock after a twenty-four hour tie-up. It is expected that at least a day will elapse before service on the branch line between here and Arrowhead will be possible.

Plane May Leave Tomorrow on Way To Australasia

OAKLAND, Cal., May 28.—The tri-motored monoplane, "Southern Cross," was given the final tests today preparatory to the four-stop hop from the Oakland Airport to Sydney, Australia, a distance of 7,788 miles.

With Captain C. E. Kingsford-Smith at the controls, the huge plane is scheduled to hop off on Thursday morning, but should ideal weather conditions prevail on Wednesday, the plane may go into the air then. C. T. H. Ulm, another Australian aviator, will share the controls with Kingsford-Smith.

Harry W. Lyon, Jr., will be charged with the exacting duty of navigator, pointing a course first towards Honolulu, a distance of 2,400 miles; to the Island of Suva, 3,138 miles; to Brisbane, 1,750 miles, and to Sydney, 700 miles.

I.O.D.E. OPENS CONVENTION OF ALL DOMINION

Standard Bearers Representing Sixty-Five Chapters Take Place in Annual Meeting of Order

SPEAKER OUTLINES WORK UNDERTAKEN

TORONTO, Ont., May 28.—Emphasizing the spirit of Empire which permeated the opening ceremonies, the procession of standard bearers, representing sixty-five chapters of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, took their places on the platform as the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the national chapter commenced tonight in Trinity College.

After the singing of patriotic songs by choir boys, an address was delivered by Hon. George H. Henry, Ontario Minister of Highways, Acting Premier, in the absence of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson. The speaker complimented the visiting delegates on the splendid work they were doing in cementing relations of the British Commonwealth and building up a feeling of idealism for the British Empire in the hearts of the youth of the land.

NEWCOMERS AND EMPIRE

Referring to the duty of I.O.D.E. members to newcomers to Canada, Mr. Henry said: "You have taken upon your shoulders an important duty in welcoming to this portion of the British Empire those not so privileged, from other countries and other peoples. You will agree with me that this country should remain British," he continued amid applause. "No people should be welcomed from other parts of the world except those that may be assimilated in ready form and in whom may be instilled our ideals and our sentiments."

Following a brief speech by Mayor Sam McBride, of Toronto, who welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city, Mrs. K. H. Holmes, president of the provincial chapter of Saskatchewan, replied to the address of welcome delivered by Mrs. C. E. Burnett, regent of the municipal chapter of Toronto.

Mrs. Holmes expressed deep appreciation on behalf of the visiting delegates of the cordial welcome of Toronto and referred to the avenue of service open to the women of Canada and their responsibility to the Empire, to the provinces and to their chapters.

MR. G. B. SHAW IN TOILS AT LAST

MOTION PICTURE DIRECTOR STATES WILD DRAMATIST IS CAPTURED

To Appear in Movietone Films and to Give Series of Lectures—Plays Withheld

PORTLAND, Me., May 28.—John Ford, film director, today said that George Bernard Shaw, English playwright, had consented to appear in the Movietone Films with a series of lectures. Ford is visiting his parents here following his return last Saturday from England.

"Although Mr. Shaw has been offered fabulous sums for motion picture rights to his plays," Mr. Ford said, "he has refused all offers. He does not think that his plays would make very good pictures as they are now written and he refuses to allow them to be adapted to picture making.

"He has, however, consented to appear in the Movietone Films and give a series of lectures," Mr. Ford stated.

CREWS' COMPLAINTS ARE LITTLE HEEDED

OTTAWA, Ont., May 28.—Complaints received from some members of the crews of vessels of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine sailing from Vancouver, have been investigated and found to have no foundation. They were simply the result of some petty grievances of the men with the officers. No complaints of any kind have been received from members of the crews sailing from Atlantic coast ports.

This information was given in the House of Commons today in answer to a question by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Conservative, Victoria.

BABY HURLED OUT OF AUTO IN COLLISION

Three-Month-Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Fuller in Serious Condition at Hospital

DOUGLAS STREET SCENE OF MISHAP

Impact When Two Cars Meet Throws Child From Mother's Arms to the Pavement

THREE-MONTH-OLD Elaine Margery Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Fuller, 2591 Cook Street, lies in St. Joseph's Hospital in a serious condition as a result of being thrown out of her father's automobile in a collision last evening.

While proceeding south along Douglas Street at 7:20 o'clock, Mr. Fuller's car collided with one driven by Mr. J. B. Bulinkx, of Gladiola Avenue, who was proceeding north along Douglas Street to turn into Burnside Road. Mr. Bulinkx was following close behind one of A. P. Slade & Company's trucks and evidently did not see Mr. Fuller's car, crashing into it on the left side.

The impact threw the baby from its mother's arms onto the road on her head. Sergeant T. Heatley and Constable R. Ireland rushed to the scene of the accident when notified by the operator at the fire hall. Dr. D. B. Holden was summoned and took the baby to St. Joseph's Hospital, where she was reported to be doing as well as could be expected at a late hour last evening. Mr. Bulinckx' car was badly damaged.

Lighting and Power Interrupted by Fire

VANCOUVER, May 28. — Fire which broke out at 2 o'clock this afternoon on the Main Street substation of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company cut off power from the city lighting and street car circuits. Substitute power was generated eventually by the company's steam plant. The shutdown interfered with regular news transmission for a while, and caught the newspaper plants about edition time. No estimate of the damage to the company's plant is available.

DOMINION DAY FETE PLANNED

PUBLIC MEETING CALLED FOR TONIGHT ON INITIATIVE OF SONS OF CANADA

Project Is Explained in Relation to Other Celebrations—Concentrate on Sport

In taking the lead to organize a festival on Dominion Day, which will be observed this year on July 2, the Native Sons of Canada have called a meeting at the City Hall this evening, to which all organizations are invited.

The committee of Assembly No. 1, which has initiated the enterprise, wishes to indicate to the public what is proposed. It desires to submit a programme which will not antagonize other cities which feature holidai programmes on Dominion Day, and which will not conflict with the character of Victoria Day celebrations here from the earliest period of the city's history.

EXCURSIONS CERTAIN

Excursions from neighboring cities are practically a certainty on Summer holiday dates now, it is pointed out, and these excursionists want some entertainment, as well as do the citizens of Victoria, and Island residents who come here for the hodiday.

The committee has no intention of promoting a street parade, leaving that picturesque feature for May 24, when school children are available for the pageantry of the procession. What they have in mind is a series of sporting events, centred on two features, a first class baseball game with professionals if possible, and an attractive water regatta. Built up around these two phases would be other sporting events suitable to the midsummer season.

FINANCING SIMPLE

In connection with the financing of the festival, the Confederation celebration committee has a surplus in hand from 1927. It is not expected any public appeal will be necessary, as some of the events proposed should yield sufficient returns at popular prices to pay almost the cost of the day's entertainment.

The committee hopes there will be a representative gathering at the public meeting, and a particular appeal is made to the different branches of athletics to be represented, as sports will be the main attraction.

CAPT. WILKINS FLIES TO DANISH CAPITAL

COPENHAGEN, May 28.—Captain George Wilkins and Lieut. Carl Eielsen arrived safely at the Copenhagen airdrome late today in a special Lufthansa plane from Oslo, Norway.

The craft was escorted into Copenhagen by a squadron of Danish military planes.

Region of Present Warfare in China

THE implications of the Japanese memorandum, handed the warring Chinese generals, are believed to be the most momentous of any Far Eastern development since the Great War. Tokio has stated that Japan will "prevent, as far as possible, defeated troops or those in pursuit of them, regardless of whether they are Northern or Southern troops, from entering Manchuria." The Japanese are likely to establish a military barrier at, Shanhaikwan, sea terminus of the Great Wall, to enforce this. The Northern general, Chang Tso-Lin, has indicated he will not heed Japan's warning and will attempt to hold Peking and Tientsin in the face of the Nationalist drive. The phrase "Manchurian protectorate" is being freely used in speaking of the position of Japan in relation to that territory. On the map are shown the relative positions of Northern and Southern armies.

CAR GOES OVER BURRARD DOCK

Automobile With Passengers Plunge Into Vancouver Harbor Waters—One Body Recovered

OTHERS POSSIBLY HELD IN VEHICLE

VANCOUVER, May 28.—Plunging over the end of a wharf here into the waters of Burrard Inlet, an automobile tonight carried at least one person to death, and it is the opinion of persons in the vicinity of the accident that several others also went to their deaths in the waters of the harbor when the car disappeared. Soon after the fatal plunge, rescue parties were at work and succeeded in picking up the body of an elderly man, as yet unidentified. At midnight, the police stated, the ownership of the car had not been established and that it would be tomorrow morning before a diver could be sent to the bottom of the inlet in an effort to locate the vehicle and ascertain if any other bodies are in it.

The car was seen traveling along the wharf, when suddenly it appeared to lurch and crash through a barrier into the water. An alarm was immediately sounded by passengers on a boat and efforts at rescue made.

MAYOR TAYLOR WANTS HEARING TO PROCEED

VANCOUVER, May 28.—Mayor Louis D. Taylor, in a statement tonight, declared that his perjury charge against Frank Caissa will be proceeded with early next week. Caissa was remanded Monday morning when he appeared in police court to answer his worship's charge for one week and it was suggested in inquiry circles that the case would probably not go on until the investigation is concluded. This was denied emphatically by the mayor, who states that he will push the prosecution to a finish when it comes before the magistrate next week.

"If the magistrate finds that my charges are right, he will set Caissa down for trial at the Fall Assizes, and I confidently expect that he will be either deported or serve a sentence," said the mayor.

CROP OUTLOOK IS FAVORABLE

Present Condition of Fruit and Grain Excellent—Rain Needed in Some Districts

WINNIPEG, May 28.—Weather conditions during the past week have been entirely satisfactory for Spring activity of all kinds throughout the West, with the result that all wheat seeding has been completed and coarse grains rapidly nearing that stage, according to the weekly crop report issued here today by the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Lack of rains and winds in Alberta have dried out surface soil, with the result that in some districts germination is somewhat uneven. Recent rains, however, have relieved the situation somewhat.

IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

The weather has been very favorable in British Columbia. Seeding, except on lower lands, has been completed and crops including both grain and roots are looking well. Blossoms on soft fruits are about over with. They set fully up to expectations. Cranbrook, Creston, Armstrong and Ashcroft districts reported rain needed. Plenty of moisture, however, in other sections. Freedom from frost damage is evinced by the healthy appearance of trees. Fruits of all kinds are setting well, indicating large yields. The first cutting of alfalfa has commenced.

Statement Made On Retirement Of Col. Cooper

OTTAWA, Ont., May 28.—A series of questions by W. G. McQuarrie, Conservative, New Westminster, with respect to Lieut.-Col. H. W. Cooper, late warden of the British Columbia Penitentiary at New Westminster, were answered in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Mr. McQuarrie asked for the reasons which had resulted in the "dismissal" of Lieut.-Col. Cooper.

The answer furnished by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, was that Col. Cooper was not "dismissed." An investigation into the general administration of the penitentiary was held on the recommendation of the Superintendent of Penitentiaries and Inspector Jackson was appointed to conduct it. There was, Mr. Lapointe stated, no personal difference between Inspector Jackson and Colonel Cooper, and these two men were not on unfriendly terms. Inspector Jackson had not recommended the "dismissal" of Colonel Cooper; he had recommended the "retirement" of Colonel Cooper immediately "to promote efficiency and harmony in the penitentiary service because of maladministration."

GROWERS GREET RAIN JOYFULLY

DOWNPOUR YESTERDAY CAME AT CRITICAL TIME FOR STRAWBERRY CROP

Rain Is Spreading Eastward to Alberta, With Benefit to Prairie Farmers

While the recorded rainfall here yesterday afternoon was only one-fifth of an inch, as compared with nearly one inch in Vancouver, the break in the weather came at a time when to the berry grower and the vegetable producers, it was priceless. Strawberry men were optimistic, after discouragement due to continued dry weather unusually early in the season.

Traces of rain were recorded on Sunday, following brief showers during Sunday afternoon, but it was not until yesterday afternoon that the welcome downpour fell in such volume as to give results in the parched gardens and berry plantations.

The ocean storm which brought strong southerly and westerly winds was the harbinger of the rainstorm here.

The forecast promises more rain today, the condition being general across Western Canada, with records up to half an inch at Prairie points. The crop forecasts for several days have stressed the necessity for Spring rains at this time, and so the change in temperature will be especially welcomed.

West Coast points report by wireless rain at all places served, but strangely enough Prince Rupert, noted for its precipitation, is drier than southern parts of the province.

Forest fire preventive officers were relieved by the downpour, which mitigated the hazardous situation in the camps throughout the Island and Lower Mainland. The storm of Sunday night delayed barge traffic on the Gulf of Georgia, holding up booming operations at tidewater points.

Major Anderson Dies

NELSON, May 28—Major Gilbert Anderson, prominently known Kootenay resident, died here today following an illness of less than a week. He is survived by his wife and a son. Major Anderson was a South African and Great War veteran.

On his return from France he was commandant at the Morrissey interment camp. Later he was made superintendent of the Dominion and Provincial Employment Bureau here, which post he held until the time of his death. He was actively engaged in Masonic circles.

CONGREGATION HONORS PASTOR

Presentation Is Made to Rev. Dr. Wilson on Completion of Twenty-Five Years of Work

MANY PAY TRIBUTE TO HIS CHARACTER

At First United Church last evening honor was shown to Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Smith's Falls, Ont. Recognition was made of the occasion by the holding of a public gathering in the auditorium of the church when not only did the members of the congregation manifest in striking manner the respect with which he was held by them, but representatives of the various sister churches of the city paid compliment to the worth of Dr. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson as workers in the cause of Christianity. There was also acknowledgment given to the influence of Dr. and Mrs. Wilson by the public bodies represented by Hon. A. M. Manson for the Provincial Government, and Alderman H. O. Litchfield, as representing the City Council.

During the progress of the evening presentation was made to Dr. Wilson of an illuminated address on behalf of the congregation. This address was signed by the heads of the various societies of the church. There was also handed to him a purse of money in the form of a book which Mr. S. J. Drake, who made the presentation, described as bearing the title "How to Enjoy a Holiday." The address was read by Mr. Donald A. Fraser.

At the same time there was given to Mrs. Wilson a beautiful basket of flowers on behalf of the ladies' organizations. The presentation of this tribute with the reading of the address accompanying it was performed by Mrs. A. S. Christie, president of the Women's Guild of the church.

DR. WILSON REPLIES

In replying to the addresses, and following up the compliments paid him by the various speakers, Dr. Wilson recalled the fact that the experience which he had had in the twenty-five years represented by his ministry, had been a great one. There had been friendships formed that had lent joy to life in that period.

The experience, he hoped, would have the effect of making him braver, more zealous, and more loving in his days to come. He had

LABOR DEBATES ORIENTAL VOTE

Vancouver and New Westminster Trade Unions Take Ballot on Withdrawal

VANCOUVER, May 28.—In spite of vigorous opposition by the Vancouver and New Westminster district trades and labor council, the Canadian Labor Party at its meeting Sunday reiterated its election platform plank of enfranchisement for Orientals, it is reported.

The question arose some weeks ago when the Canadian Labor Party approved the plank. So much objection was voiced that the Labor Party announced, during a warm discussion in the trades council meeting that the matter would be reconsidered. A movement to have the trades council withdraw its delegates from the Canadian Labor Party was temporarily checked.

In the meantime, a vote of the unions is being taken on the question of withdrawal. The result will be known at the Trades and Labor Council meeting on Tuesday, June 5.

At the Canadian Labor Party meeting on Sunday the vote was twenty-five for cancellation of the plan and thirty-two against.

Arctic Ice and Storms Stop Rescue Steamer on Search for Lost Italia

Citta di Milano, Supply Ship of Expedition, Sets Out From Spitzbergen Harbor but Is Unable to Find Passage Through Icefields—Blizzards Make Navigation Difficult

Government of Norway Proposes to Send Large Airplanes for Rescue

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 28.—A wireless message indicating that the Citta di Milano, mother ship of the Italian Arctic expedition, was battling a fierce snowstorm, was intercepted here by the naval radio station at 2:50 p.m. today. The message was in Italian and addressed to "Marina, Roma." The message translated as follows:

"We are north of Point Barren about eighty latitude north. We are trying to find a passage toward the east. We have met a violent storm and ice, and blizzards of snow."

STOPPED BY ICE

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, May 28.—About a dozen men of the Italia's party still are here, including Prof. Nobile, the general's brother. They were particularly disappointed today to learn that the base ship of the expedition, the Citta di Milano, had been stopped by ice in her attempt to explore the north coast of the island. Experts say it is hopeless for the steamer to try to proceed eastward where the Italia must be if she descended or crashed.

They said that a 5,000-ton ship like the Citta di Milano, with its crew of 220 men, would be immediately shut in if it attempted to penetrate the ice pack and probably never would get free.

The ship now is at Magdalena Bay, a few miles south of Amsterdam Island. She will try to reach New Friesland and will face unfavorable conditions on her way north as the wind has been forcing the floes against the land. She reported that there was fog over the mountains and that the visibility was very poor.

The Citta di Milano took a native hunter aboard at Magdalena Bay, and will try to get in communication with other hunters wherever she touches land in the hope that some of them may be able to give tidings of the Italia.

Exploration with dog teams is also to be undertaken. One team, driven by two experts named Tandberg and Noels, is ready to leave for Wijdi Fjord, a trip which will take three or four days overland.

TO SEND AIRPLANES

OSLO, Norway, May 28.—Large airplanes, accompanied by station ships equipped for Arctic work, are the means proposed by the Norwegian Government for finding in the Northern wastes traces of the lost dirigible Italia and her personnel of eighteen.

The plan in detail has been sent to Rome for approval by the Italian Government. An Italian aviator arrived here from Stettin tonight and conferred with the Italian minister on the plan.

Lieut. Luetzow Holm, who started from Horten today in a seaplane to join the sealer Hobby at Tromsoe, reached Bergen at 4:30 p.m. He took off again at 6 p.m. and hoped to arrive at Tromsoe early Tuesday. If all goes well, the Hobby with Lieut. Holm's machine aboard may reach Kings Bay late this week.

Airplane Fleet From U.S. Visits Winnipeg Field

WINNIPEG, May 28.—Nine airplanes bringing messages of good will from the United States swooped down on Stevenson Field, the new aerodrome of the Winnipeg Flying Club this afternoon to participate in an air pageant being conducted in connection with the official opening of the club. Led by "Speed" Holman, holder of the world's loop-the-loop record, the flyers soared low over the city and landed gracefully on the field. A large crowd of citizens, local aviators and civic dignitaries greeted the airmen. After the informal welcoming ceremony the visiting flyers were entertained at a banquet prior to starting on a programme of air races and stunts.

RIVER FLOODS SWEEP BRIDGES

ALL ROADS LEADING TO QUEBEC VILLAGE ARE BLOCKED BY FLOODS

Landslide Damages Houses — Food Shortage—People Consider Leaving En Bloc

CHICOUTIMI, Que., May 28.—With all roads leading to Le Petit Saguenay, situated on the Saguenay River, about 100 miles from here blocked, the people of the little village were today facing a shortage of food.

Twenty bridges were swept away by the rushing waters of tributaries of the Saguenay River, swelled by the severe floods which have prevailed during the past ten days in the Lake St. John district.

A large number of houses were damaged by a landslide, and several others hanging precariously over the Miniature cliffs today, threatening to collapse at any moment. The people were considering ways and means of leaving the town en bloc.

BELGRADE POLICE CHARGE STUDENTS

BELGRADE, May 28. — Attempting to end anti-Italian demonstrations, mounted police charged a group of students with drawn swords tonight and wounded thirty of them. Many of the students, who had gathered on the steps of a home for students, recently presented to the university by King Alexander, also were bruised in the encounter. Police completely surrounded the building.

Police scattered the mob, but it reassembled later, the students shouting: "Down with Mussolini—down with Fascism."

PROFITABLE RESIGNATION

SEATTLE, May 28.—W. H. Searing today resigned as chief of police of Seattle, and was retired on a $3,000 pension, half of his present salary. Had he waited another week, when Frank Edwards becomes mayor, he would have reverted to acting captain, and his pension would have been cut in half.

MR. BOURASSA ON OLD THEME

IMPERIAL RELATIONS AGAIN DISCUSSED IN COMMONS AT OTTAWA

Premier King Says No Moral Obligation Assumed in Approving Locarno Pact

OTTAWA, May 28.—On the fourth amendment to supply of the present session, Henri Bourassa, Independent, Labelle, today raised the whole question of Imperial relations. Mr. Bourassa's amendment regretted that proper steps had not been taken to give full effect both in domestic and external affairs, to the equality of status acknowledged by the Imperial Conference of 1926 to be the fundamental principle of relations between the self-governing British Dominions.

As an amendment to supply Mr. Bourassa's amendment was necessarily a motion of non-confidence. He regretted that it should be so and observed that it was the only means a private member had of bringing so highly important a question before the House.

In his speech Mr. Bourassa traversed the range of Imperial relations, laying particular stress on the importance of not assuming moral obligations in international affairs.

PREMIER KING

Premier King observed that except for the word "regret" the Government had no objection to the purport of the amendment. He held that experience of the years since the Imperial Conference had served to show that the course taken at the conference was a proper one.

The Locarno Pact had been referred to in connection with moral obligations. On the Locarno Pact, Premier King said, the Imperial Conference had gone no further than to express good will without assuming any obligations. He urged Mr. Bourassa not to press his amendment to a division.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, thought equality of status was a "high sounding term," which did not properly represent the present situation. There could not be equality of status unless we had the right to make peace and declare war, and unless we also had the right to amend our own constitution. Debate on the amendment was still under way when the House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

SETTLERS FROM U.S.

WINNIPEG, Man., May 28.—The first American invasion of Western Canada this year has resulted in the sale of 3,500 acres of farm land near Estonia in Snipe Lake district, southwest of Saskatoon. The party which comprised eighteen farmers from Nebraska, North Dakota and Iowa, was brought to Canada by L. B. Boyd, Superintendent of Colonization of the Canadian National Railways at St. Paul, Minn. It is the first of a number of parties to be brought in during the year. For the past three years American farmers have been settling the Snipe Lake district and a large colony is now established there. All those making purchases during the present trip are well supplied with capital and they are experienced farmers who have been working leased land in the States. They will occupy their new land this year.

cherished in his early days ideals which he prayed he might still see fulfilled.

He praised the fraternal feeling that had been at all times manifested by the fellow clergymen in the city. He could not, he said, find fitting words to express the feelings that were in his heart. Language would not describe them.

RESOLUTION OF CHURCH

Rev. W. J. Sipprell, D.D., extended felicitations from the British Columbia Conference of the United Church, and in doing so read the resolution that had been passed by that body, and which he had been deputized to present to Dr. Wilson. In connection with it he referred to appointment of Dr. Wilson to the position of the president of the conference following the union of the churches. This was no small honor, the speaker thought to be conferred upon him. It was all the more honor in view of the fact that there were a number of members of the conference who had been much longer in the work in British Columbia.

In passing, Dr. Sipprell, paid a compliment to the great help that Mrs. Wilson had proved in the work of her husband.

PRESBYTERIAN PRAISE

Rev. W. A. Guy, B.D., chairman of the presbytery of Victoria, conveyed the best wishes of that organization. He recalled the career of Dr. Wilson from the time he entered the ministry of the church in the East until he arrived in Victoria. Mr. Guy pointed to the fact that he had followed the minister of the First United Church in his own career, through the various provinces, eventually arriving in Victoria. Ardor and enthusiasm, Mr. Guy pointed out, were characteristic of the work of Dr. Wilson.

Rev. C. S. Quainton, D.D., brought the greetings from the Anglican Church. He referred in a humorous way to the relations of the churches at the present time. There was, he said, a very strong feeling of unity prevailing. He felt that there was more need of teaching by the ministry than of preaching. Young people were being bewildered at the maze that seemed to prevail. The best evangelists today were those who taught.

"I am no prophet," said the Dean, "but stranger things than this might happen—that Dr. Wilson might preach in the new cathedral."

Rev. J. Strachan spoke of the splendid influence of men like Dr. Wilson in the city, bringing greetings from the Baptist denomination.

RESTRAIN IN TRIAL

Rev. J. S. Patterson, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, alluded to the formation of the United Church, and said that when the last story of it was written there might be a chapter in it showing the restraint that was to be controlled by my nerves. The manifest by both sides to the movement, which would be most interesting, and which would tell a great story. On both sides it would be shown that there was far more resisted and kept under in the discussions for and against union than had been uttered.

He congratulated Dr. Wilson upon the fact that he did not have to die in order to receive congratulations upon what he had done.

Rev. A. deB. Owen, of the Reformed Episcopal Church, said that it was a blessing to be a co-worker with Dr. Wilson. He hoped that they would continue to be associated for a long time to come.

HON. A. M. MANSON

Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General of the province, conveyed the regrets that Premier MacLean had had in not being able to be present at the meeting and expressing his opinion of Dr. Wilson and his work.

Mr. Manson said that ministers were not now held in the same respect as they were in years gone by. The public had come to accept the services of the ministers as a matter of course.

He recognized that ministers of the Gospel were called upon to fill a life of sacrifice. They stood in a peculiar position to interpret things. He praised the work that Dr. Wilson was performing, and hoped that he would long be spared to fill his high calling.

ALDERMAN LITCHFIELD

Alderman Litchfield, in the absence of the acting mayor, called attention to the fact that for thirty-five years he had been thrown very close to the church of which Dr. Wilson was the minister, although that was not his own church. First Church had a manner of making a particular choice of the minister who filled the pulpit. It looked after the children of the congregation in a very careful way, and the women of the church were always prominent.

Rev. A. E. Mitchell, D.D., of Vancouver, said Dr. Wilson and he had been closely associated in the work for twenty-five years.

Rev. J. K. Unsworth, D.D., presented to Dr. Wilson a message received from the latter's former congregation, St. Andrew's in Moose Jaw, which he read before presenting to him. The message was one sent by the session of St. Andrew's Church, expressive of good wishes.

The meeting was presided over by Captain George McGregor. The lesson was read by Rev. J. G. G. Bompas, Rev. Dr. Mitchell offering the opening prayer.

The choir of the church was present and rendered musical selections.

THE ADDRESS

The address was worded: "The members and adherents of First United Church, Victoria, British Columbia, are happily reminded on this occasion that twenty-five years ago today, May 28, 1903, the ordaining hands of the Presbytery were laid upon the head of our beloved minister. To the glory of God, who has called you to the ministry of the gospel, we would tonight most affectionally congratulate you on a most fruitful quarter-century of service for Christ and His Church.

"Your ministry has shown a high order of preaching, characterized by studious preparation, clear and robust thinking, imagination, and a wealth of apt and fine diction. Out of a deep religious experience, an intimate knowledge of human nature, a strong but restrained emotional life, a wide scholarship and a passion for righteousness, you have ever presented the Christian faith, courageously and persuasively and with a sincerity and earnestness that have had manifest power over mind and heart of large and attentive congregations.

"Very warmly would the congregation voice their deep appreciation of the worshipful character of the services, especially of the prayers; of the exceeding helpfulness of your pastorate, so wise in counsel and tender in trouble, so willing to serve and highly solicitous of your people's welfare, and especially so full of comfort in the night of sorrow.

"Your tact, unselfishness, humor and a rare administrative gift have kept the wheels of congregational life running smoothly. We have always found in the minister a cheery, staunch and considerate friend. Your love for children and young people and the prominence you have given to religious education have brought many hundreds of them during your four pastorates to confess Christ and unite with the church.

"We have been greatly blessed by your personal devotion to the cause of missions and your unflagging insistence upon the congregation's obedience to Christ's call for world evangelization. We realize, too, that you have done splendid work as a presbyter of the church and have been specially helpful in the cause of union before and after June, 1925.

"In conclusion, let us earnestly and affectionately assure you, dear Dr. Wilson, that your people rejoice in you as a minister who so well measures up to the high standard of the highest of callings.

"On behalf of the congregation: Donald A. Fraser, reader; Thos. Menzies, clerk of session; S. J. Drake, chairman board of managers; E. S. Farr, superintendent of Sunday School; W. C. Fyfe, choir leader; Mrs. A. L. Dunsmore, president Women's Missionary Auxiliary; Mrs. A. S. Christie, president Women's Guild. Mr. Nell Grant, president Young People's Society."

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, May 28.—Whitsuntide has been a dismal time at the headquarters of the Italia polar expedition. Extreme cold and general depression because of the uncertain fate of the eighteen men on the missing airship combine to shroud the entire place in a pall of gloom.

Everybody in this coal mining town is guessing as to what happened to General Nobile and his seventeen companions. A German-American of the name of Hartmann, who came here to operate a motion picture camera, drew on his experience as a war-time radio operator aboard a Zeppelin. He suggested that the Italia may have caught fire and exploded, as did two big German airships in the war.

DIRIGIBLE TOO SMALL

BERLIN, May 28.—The Aero Arctic Society commander, Walter Bruns, secretary general of that organization, remarked today, that he always doubted the feasibility of General Nobile's venture with a small airship like the Italia. He declared that the Italian explorer admitted that the small capacity of the Italia had obliged him to reduce his ballast reserves materially—needful in the event of ice formations—and polar equipment for use in case of a forced landing. The Italia's limited speed, about fifty miles an hour, also compelled General Nobile to waste the most valuable time for polar expeditions, April and the beginning of May. He had to await more favorable meteorological conditions on account of his original delay.

Commander Bruns is of the opinion that General Nobile, instead of consuming the last drop of gasoline, would elect to drift with his engines cut off so as to have his motors ready for a favorable landing.

IS SELECTED BY HUDSON'S BAY CO.

Well-Known Winnipeg Business Man Chosen to Canadian Committee of Historic Company

Mr. C. S. Riley, managing director of the Northern Trusts Company, Winnipeg, has been appointed a member of the Canadian committee of the Hudson's Bay Company.

Mr. Riley was born in Hamilton, but came to Winnipeg in 1884 and is a product of the Winnipeg public schools. He is well known in the business world and has occupied important positions, including the management of the Canadian Fire Insurance Company and the Canadian Indemnity Company.

NOTED SPORTSMAN

Mr. Riley is even better known in the athletic world. Rowing was his big game, in which sport he won international honors.

For several years he stroked the Winnipeg senior four which carried everything before them. In 1910 they traveled to England and won the greatest rowing honors in the world by annexing the Steward's Cup at the Henley regatta. The following three years "Con" stroked Winnipeg fours and eights to victory at premier Canadian and United States regattas.

IS STILL PRESIDENT

Mr. Riley still is president of the Winnipeg Rowing Club, a position he has held for many years.

During the late war Mr. Riley organized, recruited and took overseas the 59th Battery. In France he transferred to the 53rd Battery of the 5th Brigade, which he commanded.

The Canadian committee of the Hudson's Bay Company now consists of Mr. George W. Allan, K.C., chairman; Chief Factor James Thomson, Messrs. A. Richardson, Robert J. Gourlay and C. S. Riley.

JUDGE CONFIRMS DRUG SENTENCES

VANCOUVER, May 28.—Appeals by way of habeas corpus on behalf of two Chinese, Yue Ling and Lung, who were convicted of offences against the Opium and Narcotic Act, failed in Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Morrison.

Every statute shall receive a "fair, large and liberal construction and interpretation as will best insure the attainment of the act," quoted His Lordship from the Interpretation Act, when rejecting Ling's contention that distributing opium to one person was not a crime. The Chinese must serve a two-year term, imposed by Judge Lampman in County Court, Victoria, and pay a $200 fine and $50 costs, or serve an additional four months.

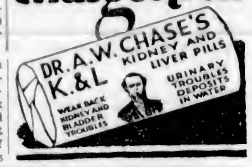

A similar fate met the submission of Lung, who also had been convicted at Victoria by Judge Lampman and had been sentenced to six months' imprisonment and fined $200. Lung's counsel argued that the omission from the sentence of any provision for payment of costs rendered the conviction nugatory; but Mr. Justice Morrison decided that the word "costs" was merely parenthetical.

THE MARVELOUS MOUTH WASH

The Least Excitement Made Her Heart Palpitate and Flutter

Mrs. Ambrose Orser, Elginburg, Ont., writes: "I suffered for some time with a bad heart which seemed to be controlled by my nerves. The least little excitement would cause it to flutter and palpitate, and at times I would have real bad spells. I suffered in this way for some time when, one day, I saw advertised, so decided to try them. I had only taken a few boxes when I noticed that I felt better, so I continued taking them and in a short time my heart felt entirely different."

MAXIM GORKY IN MOSCOW AGAIN

Soviet Allows Celebrated Russian Author to Return—Great Public Welcome

MOSCOW, May 28.—Huge crowds of workmen and students cheered Maxim Gorky, famous writer, as Nikolai Bucharin, head of the Left Wing of the Soviet Central Committee, embraced and kissed him on his arrival this afternoon at Alexandrovsky station. Gorky came from Minsk, which he reached earlier in the day, after having virtually been exiled from Russia for many years.

The noted author attempted to address the multitude through a radio apparatus placed on an improvised platform in front of the station, but his weak voice proved unequal to the task. He said merely:

"You cannot hear me. I shall write what I want to tell you."

The demonstration proved one of the largest ever accorded anyone in Moscow. From early morning, the big railway square and adjacent streets were flooded with workers, students, Communist youth and unarmed Red Army units, who came marching with scarlet streamers and banners, singing revolutionary songs.

Writers, actors, and most of Gorky's old friends, crowded the platform. As the train came to a stop, Gorky looked through a window and, catching sight of friends he had not seen since he left Russia, he wept aloud.

Some years ago Gorky incurred the enmity of the Soviet regime, and was obliged to leave the country.

Mother—"My dear boy, never put off till tomorrow what can be done today."

Young Hopeful—"Let's eat the jam tart tonight."

VANCOUVER, May 28.—Lieut. J. W. Roy Maclaren, reported drowned in the Bow River Saturday afternoon, had resided in Vancouver since 1911, and was well known. He was a brother of Major D. R. Maclaren, head of the Pacific Airways, Ltd. An electrical engineer by profession, he went to Alberta about four months ago for his firm, Bartholomew, Montgomery & Company, electrical engineers. His wife was to have joined him in June. Deceased, who was thirty-one years of age, served overseas in the Royal Navy auxiliary reserve during the war.

FILM PROJECT IS DELAYED

INDUSTRIAL COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS SALE OF SITE FOR SUM OF $250

Report Tabled for Week—Aldermen Will Acquaint Themselves With Investigation Made by City

A delay in the motion picture project of the Pacific Pictures, Limited, was encountered at last night's meeting of the council when Alderman Mara and Alderman Worthington asked that the industrial committee's recommendation that a three and a half acre block on the corner of Pembroke and Cook be sold to the company for $250, be laid on the table. They asked that the report be tabled for a week, during which time they could find out more about the project. This request was made in the face of a declaration by Alderman H. O. Litchfield that a thorough investigation had been made with regard to the bona fides of Mr. A. Hustwick and Mr. Moresby White, and a bank investigation had been made regarding their finances, both of which proved satisfactory to the industrial committee.

The industrial committee report asked the City Council to agree to sell the three and a half acre block on the corner of Pembroke and Cook Streets for $250, the transfer of property to be made when the Pacific Pictures, Limited, had completed its financing.

CONDITION SUGGESTED

Alderman Clearihue suggested that provisions be made in the agreement so that the city could secure return of the property in the event of the company failing to go through with its operations.

Alderman Litchfield, in asking for the support of the report, said that it was very apparent that the citizens of Victoria wanted a motion picture studio, judging from the overwhelming majority the last motion picture by-law was given by the electorate.

Some time ago Mr. Hustwick, who was no stranger to Victoria, had come from California to study motion picture facilities in this province under the quota law. His colleague, Mr. Moresby White, also known to Victoria, went to England to study conditions under the quota law. The two had come to the conclusion that Victoria was a logical place for a studio. A thorough investigation had been made into the men's bona fides and careful inquiries through the bank as to their financial standing.

Alderman Mara said that he did not wish to oppose the project but did not feel prepared at the present time to vote on the question. He moved an amendment to the report that it be laid on the table for one week during which period further information regarding the promoters could be obtained. He wanted to know if the council would not be morally endorsing the project by passing the industrial committee report. He said he understood that stock was to be sold in Victoria.

WOULD SEE REPORT

Alderman Worthington in seconding Alderman Mara's amendment, said he would like to see the bank report on the men's financial standing.

It was pointed out by Alderman Clearihue that Mr. Hustwick and Mr. White were heavily invested in the Pacific Pictures, Limited, and that as far as this company was concerned no stock would be sold in Victoria. It was in connection with the motion picture financing corporation that Victoria support would be sought.

Alderman Litchfield, in reply to Alderman Mara said that a report had been obtained of the two principals. It was not much to ask of the city when not so long ago it was tumbling over itself to give concessions to secure industries.

A vote was finally taken. Aldermen Mara, Worthington, Adam, Marchant and Acting Mayor Brown voted for the amendment tabling the committee's report.

Freedom of City Ceremony to Be Held on June 22

IN a resolution passed at last night's meeting of the City Council, it was agreed unanimously to confer the freedom of the city upon R. P. Butchart, Esq., and a special meeting for this purpose will be called for 4 p.m., June 22. The reeves and councillors of Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt will be invited to participate in the ceremony. It was pointed out by Alderman Marchant, the mover of the resolution, that all the municipalities were joining in bestowing the honor upon Mr. Butchart, and that Reeve William Crouch, of Saanich, was the originator of the idea.

MR. CHARLES HUNT HONORED AT FETE

Gyros Present Popular Member, Who Is Shortly to Be Married, With Set of Silverware

Mr. Charles Hunt, whose marriage will take place shortly, was guest of honor at a smoker given by the Victoria Gyro Club last night in the Chamber of Commerce, with President Arnold W. Trevett presiding.

Vice-President Roy Manzer, on behalf of members of the club, presented Mr. Hunt with a set of table silverware with tray. Mr. Manzer referred in appropriate terms to the splendid service which Mr. Hunt had rendered the Gyro organization and voiced the congratulations and best wishes of the clubmen.

Mr. Hunt extended his sincere thanks to the Gyros for their gift and stated that he had always enjoyed his association with the Victoria Gyro Club.

A splendid programme of entertainment was provided at the fete. Boxing bouts supplied by the courtesy of the Victoria Boxing Club were greatly appreciated. Three bouts were staged, namely, Jumbo Davies (105 lbs.) vs. Jimmy Riley (118 lbs.), Albie Davies (118 lbs.) vs. Tommy Burge (126 lbs.), and Tim Keist (126 lbs.) vs. Dave Lewis (130 lbs.), and excellent boxing was witnessed. Mr. W. H. Davies officiated as referee.

Vocal solos were rendered by Mr. George Ingledew, with Mr. W. T. Bridge acting as accompanist. The Gyro syncopators rendered selections and the clubmen indulged in community singing.

JUDGE MACDONALD GRANTS DIVORCE

In the Supreme Court here yesterday, Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald granted Florence May Stuart, of Vancouver, a decree absolute of divorce from Douglas Albert Stuart, of Victoria, in an undefended hearing. The couple were married on June 29, 1918, at Stourbridge, Worcestershire, England. The custody of their three children, two girls and one boy, was granted to the petitioner, who was represented by Mr. Claude L. Harrison as counsel.

"What is your trade?" asked the magistrate of the prisoner in the dock.

"I am a picker."

POLICE SAID TO AID THIEF

FURTHER EVIDENCE GIVEN IN VANCOUVER POLICE INVESTIGATION

Narcotic Drug Smuggler and Pedlar Says He Escaped Penalty by Paying Money

VANCOUVER, May 28.—Charging that he had been advised by Deputy Chief Daniel Leatherdale "to ease up on the prosecution" of an alleged robbery case, R. L. Demarcos, who described himself as a former special constable on the Vancouver police force, "in an advisory capacity" to Chief of Police H. Long, testified at the inquiry into the Vancouver police force this afternoon.

Demarcos, who came from Cranbrook to give evidence, said he had been on the local force from May 18 to July 15, 1926, and had been instructed by Chief Long to investigate the morale of the force. He was not sworn in as a police officer.

ALLEGED THEFT

The witness declared that the advice of the deputy chief of police, now acting head of the department, was in connection with an incident in the Joy Parlor, near the southeast corner of Abbott and Cordova Streets. He said he had seen a woman forcibly take a purse from a man and hand it to a Mrs. Anderson. The latter, he declared, removed $30 from the purse.

After the case came to police court, but before it was completed, said Demarcos, he had been advised by the deputy that "he would fare better if he were to ease up on the prosecution." Demarcos said he had told the deputy that he would "sink or swim" with the case, and that that official had replied that "he would sink," as there were enough witnesses to refute all of Demarcos' statements.

The case was dismissed after defence testimony was heard, declared the witness.

FRIEND OF THE DEPUTY

Demarcos said he complained to Chief Long, and that the latter had told him that Mrs. Anderson was born in Vancouver and a friend of the deputy. The chief had said, according to Demarcos, that this was the reason Leatherdale was sympathetic to her. Before coming to Vancouver in 1926, Demarcos said in reply to a question, that he had been with the Alberta Provincial Police, and for some time had been engaged in breaking up a Communist group.

Demarcos in the course of his evidence said he had once accompanied Sergeant McLaughlin and other officers on a raid of the American Hotel. Within an hour and a half he had returned and had sat in on another game in the same place. Some of the players, who had just been bailed out were timid, after the raid, but he had heard the manager assure them they need not worry as there would not be another raid for six months.

NARCOTIC TRAFFIC

That Detective Jack Parsons, formerly a patrol sergeant, asked him for money after a charge of having narcotics in his possession was withdrawn in police court, was the declaration of Wing Ching, Chinaman, before the police inquiry this morning.

Wing Ching swore that his father paid $50 to a Chinaman named Jung Kee to get the charge withdrawn and that Jung Kee paid the money to "someone."

The witness admitted that he had been in the habit of going aboard vessels from the Orient and purchasing drugs from members of the crew and selling this to addicts.

Following the Chinaman's evidence in regard to the payment of money to have the charge withdrawn, G. G. McGeer, counsel for Police Commissioner T. W. Fletcher, demanded that this case should be investigated by the city prosecutor. The prosecutor had been delinquent, he declared, and he (McGeer) proposed to investigate.

In reply to a question by Mr. McGeer, Wing Ching stated he had been arrested by two detectives while delivering three packages of opium to a white woman in a West End apartment house. The charge, he said, had been reduced to smoking opium, he said, and he was fined $50. He declared again that his father had "paid someone" but he did not know who.

SMALL CHANGE TO BE REQUIRED

Effect on Burnside and Hillside Lines Is Announced, Resulting From Paving Operations

The resumption of paving operations on Douglas Street will necessitate only two changes in the routing of street cars. Beginning Thursday morning, May 31., the Hillside and Burnside cars, from the city, will leave for the Hillside and Burnside terminals by way of Yates and Government Streets instead of proceeding directly along Douglas Street. This arrangement will not in any way affect the usual through service between Foul Bay and Hillside and Mount Tolmie and Burnside.

Passengers from the city for Hillside or Burnside will find the corner of Yates and Douglas, at the Bank of Montreal, the most convenient place at which to board cars for either of these destinations.

No change will be made in the routing of the Gorge and Esquimalt cars.

MOTORISTS COME TO CURTIS POINT

More Arrivals in May Than in Corresponding Month of 1927 Reported

While the motor travel of the season has just commenced, Curtis Point Automobile Tourist Camp has had more registrations in May than was the case in that month last year. Several of the motorists are former visitors to the camp, as in the case of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Draper, of Michigan City, who were here two years ago. They divided their stay this year into two parts, broken by a cruise in the Princess Maquinna up the West Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fawkner, of Portland, are so favorably impressed with the camp that they plan to return in July. Few Prairie residents have yet moved to the Coast by car, but among those registering are Mr. L. W. Lows, of Calgary; Dr. and Mrs. Collison, W. J. Bottrell and Jack Fulton, of Red Deer, Alta., and Mr. J. Tess, of Lacombe, Alta.

There are several cabins now open for service on the six-acre property, with various classes of accommodation, experience showing that an increasing number of motorists prefer comfort to camping out when touring.

Mr. W. H. Hadley, who is now operating the camp, has moved the store to the entrance, and converted the old store into housing accommodation of a more extensive kind than the cabins permit.

"How did you punish your son when you found he had smoked one of your cigars?"

"I made him smoke another."

Pile Sufferers

You can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Nothing but an internal remedy can do this—that's why cutting and salves fail. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, is guaranteed to quickly and safely banish any form of Pile misery or money back. MacFarlane Drug Co., Vancouver Drug Co., and druggists everywhere sell it with this guarantee. (Advt.)

Six to One Shot Wins French Race

ST. CLOUD, France, May 28.—The Prix de Printempts, valued at 100,000 francs and the feature of the Pentecoste holiday card, today was won by Oliver Smet's Tape a l'Oeuil. He was three-quarters of a length ahead of his stable mate, Rais de Coeur, who finished second. Edmund de Rothschild's Coe d'Estournel was third, Ogden Mill's Cri de Guerre, the favorite, was unplaced. The winner paid 62 to 10.

CHURCH UNION IN SCOTLAND

The almost century-old breach between the two great sections of Scottish Christianity seems likely, according to last Friday's cables, to be healed by this date twelvemonth. The General Assembly of the Church of Scotland by unanimous vote and that of the United Free Church by a minority of fifty-three out of 800 delegates, adopted the proposals which insure a final vote on the proposed plan and basis of union at the adjourned meetings of the assemblies next November. Following Presbyterian procedure the basis will then be transmitted to the presbyteries of the two churches, which will make their returns in time for the final vote next May by the assemblies. Either then, or at an adjourned Autumnal meeting, the United Church of Scotland will be duly launched.

Should union be consummated in 1929, just twenty years will have elapsed since a committee was appointed to discover a common basis between the Church of Scotland, which is the established church of the country north of the Tweed and familiarly termed the "Auld Kirk," and the United Free Church, which represents the union of the Free Church and the United Presbyterians. State connection, views on the Confession of Faith, Scottish pertinacity and financial considerations had kept them for sixty years apart. Although the two national gatherings met yearly within a short distance of each other it was not until 1913 that the Moderator of the Church of Scotland ventured to cross the street in order to pay the United Free Assembly a visit. Exchange of courtesies was followed by some measure of co-operation. The prospects of union became more hopeful when the State in 1921 recognized the freedom of the Church of Scotland in matters spiritual, and in 1925 granted her the free right of administration in financial affairs as well.

The bearing of these actions upon the proposed union is due to the fact, as Dr. Adolf Keller, himself a sympathetic observer, has stated, that "for centuries the connection between Church and State has been a shibboleth in Scottish life." The great crisis took place in 1843, when four hundred and seventy ministers laid upon the table of the Church of Scotland their protest against what they held to be the violation of the rights of the people in the appointment of ministers and the subversion of the spiritual independence of the church, and marched out upon the street to form the first assembly of the Free Church of Scotland. The sacrifices made by the members of this body in following their convictions are matters of history. Without money, churches or colleges, its members grew into a strong church, marked by evangelistic and missionary zeal.

This church that not long since united with the United Presbyterian Church to form the United Free Church, is now uniting with and assuming the name of the church from which eighty-five years ago it separated. Much water has run under the ecclesiastical bridge since then. Gradually growing together, opposition has lessened in the United Free Church as its members have become assured of their spiritual independence under the proposed basis, while the Church of Scotland has been practically unanimous for some years. The presentation of a declaration that in the relations between the Church of Scotland and the State there is nothing inconsistent with the constitution of the United Free Church seems to have been the cause of the reduction of last year's minority of 125 to 53, and the assemblies have decided to consummate union even although a small minority remain recalcitrant.

The uniting churches with a combined membership of 300,000 will embrace nearly all of Scottish Presbyterianism, there being only three other small bodies of that faith. Union has commanded the support of such leaders as Lord Balfour of Burleigh, Lord Sands and Sir George Adam Smith. The urgent needs of large unchurched areas as well as the futility of overchurched depopulated districts have been strongly urged. The land of kirks confesses to a "churchless million," and to a certain breaking down of the former morale. Scotland has stood throughout its highly intelligent and religious course for adherence to the Bible and the Christian faith, for reverence and integrity, and the hope may be expressed that the amalgamation of its hereditary Christian forces will conduce to the country's welfare.

AT KITTY HAWK

Few people we suppose could tell if asked where Kitty Hawk is situated or why it is famous. It is a little fishing village on a windswept sand reef off the coast of North Carolina; and there, only a few days ago, was unveiled a stone table marking an event of world-wide interest. There on September 17, 1900, Wilbur Wright began the assembly of the Wright brothers' first experimental glider which led to man's conquest of the air.

On that spot, too, or near it, on the sand dunes, Orville Wright first flew a motor-driven airplane a little more than three years later. The flight, as flights are judged today, was not a long one. It lasted for twelve seconds, covered a distance of 125 feet and ended in an unexpected nose dive into the sand. None the less it constituted the first successful experiment with a heavier-than-air machine in the long history of man's attempts to fly.

The story of this first flight, and others that succeeded it has been retold by Mr. Mark Sullivan in his recent book, "America Finding Herself." "Nothing in the story, as Mr. Sullivan tells it," remarks The New York World, "is more remarkable than the smiling assurance with which the world refused to believe that the Wrights had flown, for many months after they had demonstrated their ability to fly as far as twenty miles." This scepticism Mr. Sullivan attributed to a fixed state of mind of the average man about aviation, an incredulity born after watching effort after effort fail; the last such failure being the spectacular fiasco of Langley's Buzzard only nine days after the Wrights flew at Kitty Hawk.

Even as late as 1905 and 1906, when the Wrights were flying ten miles, fifteen miles and twenty miles a day at Dayton, newspapers all over the world were filled with jeers for those who believed that man could learn to fly, and authoritative articles to prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that faith in flying was absurd. It was not until May 11, 1908, that after the Wrights had flown hundreds of miles at Dayton and returned to Kitty Hawk for new experiments, that suddenly the story "broke."

PROFESSIONAL WOMEN

Viscountess Rhondda has at once a somewhat deprecating and in another sense an elevating view of women's place in the scheme of affairs. She says, for instance, that professional women, "have for the most part no sense of loyalty to the woman pioneers." In other words she says that they regard their privileges of education and training, "as if they had dropped like manna from heaven." She accuses these professional women of being guilty of sex snobbery, or, to use her words, a desire "to stand in with and to stand well with the 'stronger sex'."

There is a difficulty, Viscountess Rhondda says, which haunts the unmarried woman. It is that if her family feels the need she must leave her work and her chances of success and happiness and go back to them. She has two roots. She may be recalled to her family for some reason or other, or she may be left to work out her destiny. Viscountess Rhondda believes that the value of the professional women to the community is considerable, because "their existence in increasing numbers is the bright side of the change that has taken place since 1870."

The Good Old Days

A Complaint

(From St. Paul's Church, on Account of Her Bills)

To see a strange outlandish fowl,
A quaint baboon, an ape, an owl,
A dancing bear, a giant's bone,
A foolish engine move alone;
A morris dance, a puppet play,
Mad Tom to sing a roundelay,
A woman dancing on a rope
Bull-baiting also at the "Hope."
A rimer's jests, a juggler's cheats,
A tumbler showing cunning feats,
Or Players acting on a stage,—
There goes the bounty of our age!
But unto any pious motion
There's little coin and less devotion.

—Henry Farley.

THE OLDNESS OF THE NEW

I have been reading of "new color" in the dress-making world. It is called "mavis," and is a pale blue, the color of a thrush's egg (says a London Morning Post writer). Of course, it is not really new, because the thrush thought of it goodness knows how many thousands of years ago, and at a slightly later date—to wit, the late 'eighties or early 'nineties—I remember how popular a tint it was for the enamel with which "aesthetic" people used to coat their furniture. Thrush's egg blue and that pale green known as eau de Nil were the favorite tints employed, but the blue was an easy first.

There was an enameling craze in those days. Women bought pots of the stuff and then looked around for something which they could paint, and I have seen nice old mahogany furniture fall a victim to the prevailing fashion "because it looked so shabby." Nowadays, the desire for renovation is not less marked; but it is carried on in front of the looking glass—a practice confined in Victorian days to a very few.

THE EXODUS

To argue that it does not matter whether Canadians live in their own country or not is very much like saying that it does not matter whether Canada makes national progress or not, for it is certain that the exodus of Canadian-born citizens from this country is not going to help it forward in any direction, but most inevitably militate against the national progress and prosperity. It may not matter much to the individual Canadian whether he stays in Canada or goes to make his living elsewhere, but it is a matter of very real importance to his country whether he elects to live out his life here or become a citizen of some other land. We want Canada to remain Canadian, not to become a melting-pot for a polyglot population who have neither root in our soil nor faith in our future.—Montreal Star.

As a diamond cuts diamond, and one bone smooths a second, all the parts of intellect are whetstones to each other; and genius, which is but the result of their mutual sharpening, is character too.—C. A. Bartol.

The man who has nothing to boast of but his illustrious ancestors is like a potato—the only good belonging to him is underground.—Sir Thomas Overbury.

True modesty does not consist in an ignorance of our merits, but in a due estimate of them.—J. C. Hare.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Two eminent medical men, one English and the other Canadian, tell us that dire consequences threaten the men of England and the women of Canada unless they mend their ways. The eminent medical men are not prophets and do not base their gloomy predictions upon anything written in the Good Book or upon anything mysteriously inscribed upon the stones of the pyramids. They speak from knowledge acquired by experience and in practice.

The English authority says deaths from heart disease are increasing at an alarming rate in England and that men chiefly are the victims of the scourge. The English authority asks, what can you expect considering what the men eat, the stuff they drink, the tobacco they smoke, and the hours they spend in places they should spend in bed, and the mad pace at which they travel from one alleged diversion to another? The Englishman was at one time noted for the strength of his heart and the perfection of his nerves; but there is a limit to the endurance of even so efficient an organ as the heart and there is a point beyond which it is hazardous to strain the nerves. The increase in the death rate in England from heart disease is a result of a mad pursuit of pleasure.

Watching the rate at which motor cars rush through the streets of Victoria is apt to suggest a reflection that England will not long remain pre-eminent for its high death rate from heart disease. The people of any country cannot "go the pace, hitting only the high spots," without suffering the consequences.

In the days when the motor car was more or less of a novel institution, before it was considered necessary to speed up in order to facilitate the transaction of business, motoring was apt to produce a feeling of somnolence or drowsiness. Then it was a luxury and soothing to the nerves. The person today who goes forth in a motor car and becomes drowsy at the wheel is apt to be aroused from his dream of bliss by either a raucous honk or a violent bump. If he reads the newspapers he will learn that whether he remains in Victoria or seeks relaxation in other parts of the world he is expected to "keep up with the procession." Even the authorities who are supposed to supervise traffic and make it safe will tell him that. Under the circumstances, unless your heart is strong and never misses a beat and your nerves are even as steel, you had better keep out of a motor car and avoid the rushing procession.

The disease which, according to a Canadian authority, threatens the women of Canada, is even more insidious and more to be dreaded than affections of the heart. It is tuberculosis, and it is adding to its victims daily. The scourge is not due, as might be supposed on looking at the procession on the streets, to little or no dress worth speaking of, affected even by women of mature years, who should know better and would look better if they only knew it, (oh, if they only could see themselves as mere men see them!). It is not even due to thin silken hose. It is due to lipsticks and rouge, high-heeled shoes and other vanities, vulgarities and disfigurements.

If our young girls only knew how ridiculous they look stumping along the streets with their heels elevated on stilts, and their feet thrust forward in their shoes and their bodies thrown out of natural equilibrium and poise, and with their faces "made up" like the faces of actresses when they appear upon the stage, possibly they might not consider it becoming to make exhibitions of themselves.

* * *

But the Canadian doctor who has issued the warning to women is not concerned with fashions or appearances. He deals with facts, and the facts are that tuberculosis, or consumption, is increasing amongst women at an alarming rate because the prevailing custom prevents the girls from taking such exercise as will promote and insure robust constitutions and sound health. He says he knows it will be useless to appeal to the girls directly because all young people (boys as well as girls) are slaves under the tyranny of fashions, customs and styles. He therefore tells the mothers of the girls to try and prevail upon them to dress sensibly and observe the rules which will insure good health and prevent premature death under the most distressing circumstances possible or imaginable. For diseased lungs are vastly more to be dreaded than a weak heart. In both cases the ultimate result is inevitable, but in one case the suffering is prolonged; in the other case, while there may be much preliminary pain, the end usually comes quickly.

STRANGE VOICES

Sir,—I am seeking truth on the subject of our Lord's second coming, hence I went to hear Dr. Davies. I did not endorse his views, though it is possible he is right; I do not know. But Mr. John Ford, secretary of the Everson campaign, charges me with attacking Paul the Apostle by quoting Dr. Davies.

Mr. Ford is sure he himself holds the truth and, as such folks are, he is dogmatic (not to say arrogant) and links Dr. Davies' views with the Bolsheviki, though they have nothing in common, for the Russian revolutionists seek to destroy all religion. The purport of my letter was to show that the strange views and the many sects that abound are weakening the Christian Church and destroying it from within. One fears that the mission of Mr. Everson is to found another sect in Victoria.

I am not so unfamiliar with the Seventh Day Adventists as Mr. Ford supposes. For twenty-three years I lived beside a body of them on the Prairie, and am therefore pretty well acquainted with their views and their methods. Dr. Webber, of the Missionary Alliance, stated recently that the Seventh Day Adventists are great at proselytizing, and this is as I found them. They unsettle the views of people of other churches and seek to win them over.

I heard Professor Everson lecture last week on "If a Man Dies, Does He Go to Heaven?" He argued from the New Testament that at death the entire man died and was buried till the second coming—or the general resurrection (?). Mr. Ford tells us Mr. Everson is nearest to the United Church and the Church of England. But these churches believe when a Christian man dies the soul, the spirit, the immortal part of him, the "I," the personality, the tenant of the earthly tabernacle, goes at once to heaven. A man in the audience asked Mr. Everson about Paul's statement, "Absent from the body, present with the Lord." Mr. Ford tells us Mr. Everson believes Paul wrote under the dictates of the Holy Spirit. The lecturer juggled long and strangely with Paul's assertion to make it agree with his doctrine of total death in the grave.

Again the man in the audience asked Mr. Everson, "What of Paul's statement 'To live is Christ; to die is gain.'?" Mr. Everson reasoned on lines of natural philosophy that Paul's weary, buffeted body needed rest—and recuperation (?) Surely, said the questioner, Paul did not find 1,900 years in the grave "a gain"! To me, this lecture was the most fantastic I have ever heard. My point is that the lecturer argued away the face value of Paul's words and the idea Paul tried to give us. The lecturer did not touch on our Lord's assurance to his fellow sufferer on the cross, "Today thou shalt be with me in Paradise." The grave is not paradise.

As I said at first, I seek truth re the second coming. I heard an able preacher, a D.D., preach on this subject a year ago at Saskatoon. Said he, "We are not sure of the second coming; certainly not that millions now living will never die," that he will come in our lifetime. We know by experience he comes to the hearts and lives of people now willing to receive him. We know he is in the church and the world today. He is already here; why trouble about another coming?" This assertion seemed to me reasonable, practical and tangible. My mind is open on the main question.

In my young days in England the second coming was rarely spoken of. Now, new sects have pushed the question abnormally to the forefront. Mr. Ford ignores the historical aspect of the question—how the early Christians expected the coming in their day, and how the question died down till recent years. Mr. Everson is not akin to the United Church nor the Church of England in his belief that the Sabbath of Moses, the seventh day, is now binding on us. Here again Mr. Everson ignores the history of the early church. Dr. Webber declared if we observe this day, it is binding on us; we observed it as directed by Moses in the books that bear his name. This is a reasonable claim. It was forbidden to light a fire on the day. In Num., xv, is an account of a man stoned to death for gathering sticks on the day.

W. HORDERN.

Victoria, B.C., May 28, 1928.

"STRANGE VOICES"

Sir,—May I reply to Mr. Hordern, of the twenty-third, who states that he is a newcomer to our beautiful city. We surely welcome him, and believe he would travel a long way to find a more beautiful city than Victoria, B.C., or better citizens either.

He is puzzled by the numerous religious sects here, and among others he states that: "Professor Everson's lectures are unsettling to many persons: His views are different to those held by the Christian Church generally. They are strange, the subjects are fantastic, speculative, problematical. He belongs to the Seventh Day Adventists. They, and the Bible Students have a good deal in common. On slender ground they believe the world will get worse and worse, that the Christian Church will become more and more corrupt, that a devastating war of Armageddon worse than the last war will break out among all nations; then, the second coming and the thousand millenium years will follow."

Dear Editor, I do not know Professor Everson, and very little about his teaching, so cannot comment on that; but I do know about the International Bible Students' Association, and should like to say to your correspondent and others who share his view, that they have been misinformed. If they understood just what is taught by the I.B.S.A., they would know that it is neither fantastical, speculative, nor problematical, nor do they believe anything on "slender ground." They study the Bible and have "Thus saith the Lord" for everything they believe, and consider it their dutiful privilege to preach the gospel of the Kingdom of Christ, for which we have so long prayed. "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven." Saint Paul said: "As we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak."

Your correspondent is mistaken in thinking that the I.B.S.A. teach that after the trouble "then," the second coming, for we have no creed but the Bible, which to us clearly teaches that the second coming has already taken place, and that Christ is now breaking down the old order of things, upon the ruins of which he will set up his kingdom of righteousness which will bring lasting peace and good will to men. "Then," every eye will see (perceive) his presence.

I do not think any good Bible Student would "jeer" or make fun of the League of Nations, or anyone who is honestly trying to do good, but they see from the Scriptures that Christ's Kingdom alone, and nothing else, can bring real and lasting peace on earth, and that all God's purposes will be accomplished. Peace, happiness and prosperity will be the outcome of the struggle.

With reference to the statement that "They say the churches are corrupt." I recently read in your columns a denial to that by the Canadian head of the I.B.S.A., but he stated: "We do say that their 'doctrine' is corrupt." Corruption evidently crept in many centuries ago, so that now the creeds are not according to the Scripture, and we are beginning to see the mistakes.

May I give just one instance, sir, to show what I mean. About fifteen years ago a friend gave me a little book which explained every text on hell. I asked the opinion of a very highly educated lady who, with her husband, was among the most prominent in the church. She said: "That is quite right; at family prayer we always read the original Hebrew and Greek, and have often remarked to each other that that word means simply a covering, a grave, a burying place. But," she added, "we must not tell the minister we know that; he must preach hell fire, or there would be nothing to restrain the people; they would go headlong to ruin."

Dear Editor, I used to tremble at the thought of hell for all those who forget God, but now I know that "all" go there—the bad people and also the good people—and they lie peacefully sleeping, waiting for the resurrection. But I also know that if I wilfully disobey God's laws, I shall be punished. Thou, God, seest me, and will reward or punish me just according to my obedience or disobedience of His laws.

ELLEN M. HOGARTH.

2350 Lee Avenue, Victoria, B.C., May 25, 1928.

LOYALTY

Sir,—In June our hearts all turn to our loved Sovereign, King George, when we celebrate his birthday, and it is for this reason the Victoria Seamen's Institute has chosen this month for a tag day. What better way of showing our loyalty to our sailor king than in caring for the men he loves so well?

Then, as loyal citizens of Victoria, we cannot have our city disgraced by the Seamen's Institute being shut up for want of funds. It has struggled for nearly seventeen years and kept its head above water, and surely Victoria would not like to be the only port in the civilized world without a home of the sort.

Thirdly: We must be loyal to our fellow men and provide some decent place for the boys to go. How can you blame them for getting into mischief in a strange port if there is no home open to welcome them. The sin is yours, not theirs.

The Victoria Seamen's Institute (the Connaught, the foundation stone having been laid by His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught) is situated on Superior Street and is always open to inspection, and the treasurer, Mrs. Gordon Smith, can show by her books that not a cent is wasted.

Some people object to tag days, and I do not blame them, but this is easily obviated by a yearly subscription.

I am sorry to take up so much of your space, but delegates from the British and Foreign Sailors' Society come out here in the Fall and it is up to the citizens that we be not disgraced in their eyes.

HUMBLE SONGS

Not all may sing the perfect song
That haunts their dreams always.
Few are the great, to them belong
The splendid thoughts that swiftly throng
In subtle, matchless phrase.

The treasure most men own, instead,
Is but a simple thing,
A radiance dimly, faintly shed,
Such light a candle-flame can spread,
And such the songs they sing.

Yet candles sometimes bravely cast
Their pure and lambent ray
Through doors where never sunlight passed,
And so the humblest song, at last,
May charm some gloom away.

Borrower (loftily): "I hope you got my cheque?"

His Creditor (bitterly): "Yes, twice—once from you and once from the bank."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of May 29, 1878)

Yale District—Mr. Dewdney, M.P., will be a candidate for re-election in this district. That is enough said. His return is assured. The people of Yale—apart from politics—owe Mr. Dewdney a debt of gratitude for his exertions on behalf of the Fraser River route, and will take the first opportunity of discharging it by returning him by a unanimous vote. Mr. Robt. Smith, late M.P.P. for the district, will also be a candidate.

Arrived Here—The steamer Enterprise arrived at 3 p.m. yesterday with thirty-five head of cattle from J. F. Allison's ranch at Similkameen for F. Reynolds and the following passengers: Capt. J. Irving, Capt. Christense, Judson Young, F. Richards, R. Thomas, W. Kreary, Maloney, J. F. Allison, E. Cook, J. McCrachren, Sommer, W. McKenzie, Brisbouse.

From Port Moody—The steamer Alexander came down at 5 a.m. yesterday from Moody, Nelson & Co.'s mill with the French bark San Andreone, bound for Hong Kong, and the following passengers: Mr. and Mrs. M. Thain, Mrs. Meyers, Miss Moore, Capt. Ritterbank and Capt. Meyers.

FORMER VICTORIAN DIES IN VANCOUVER

Mrs. F. A. Thompson, Sister of Mr. H. S. Pringle, Buried at Mountain View Cemetery

Mrs. F. A. Thompson, wife of Mr F. A. Thompson, of Vancouver, and sister to Mr. H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, died on Sunday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. S. M James, 256 Twelfth Avenue West, Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were formerly residents of Victoria, living here from 1906 to 1911. They had a large circle of friends here, and during their residence in Victoria were members of the Metropolitan Church. Mrs. Thompson was predeceased by her mother, Mrs. E. Pringle, only as recently as last December.

Mrs. Thompson was a native of Napanee, Ont., and besides her husband and daughter, is survived by a son, Clausen A. Thompson, of San Francisco, and another daughter, Miss Ilah M Thompson of this city; also three brothers, H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, of Victoria; F. W. Pringle, of Chicago and W. B. Pringle, of Napanee.

The funeral took place at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Harron Bros. & Williamson's chapel. Rev. O. M. Sanford, of Chown United Church, officiated. Interment was made in the I.O.O.F. plot, Mountain View Cemetery.

City Accepts $500,000 Bid For Debentures

The bid of $500,000 by the Canadian Bank of Commerce for $508,000 par value of Panama Pacific Grain Terminals, Ltd. five per cent serial debentures, was accepted by the city council last night. There was only one bid received. The acceptance of the bid has been agreed upon by the directors of the company.

These bonds are payable half-yearly, commencing July 2, 1932, until 1953, when the bonds mature.

Upon debentures redeemed sixteen years before their due date, a premium of five per cent will be paid, those redeemed twelve years before their due date will bear a premium of four per cent; eight years before their due date three per cent; four years before their due date, two per cent, and from one to three years before their due date, one per cent.

Obituary

GOEPEL—The remains of Mrs. Fanny Goepel were laid to rest yesterday afternon in Ross Bay Cemetery, the funeral taking place from St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, at 3 o'clock. The service at the church was conducted by the rector, Rev. A. E. de L. Nunns, Right Rev. Bishop Schofield, Venerable Archdeacon Laycock and Rev. C. H. E. Cropper, and at the graveside by Rev. A. E. de L. Nunns. The hymns sung were "Lead, Kindly Light," the Twenty-Third Psalm, and "When On My Day of Life the Night is Falling." As the body was leaving the church the choir sang the Nunc Dimittis. A large number of friends were present, and numerous floral designs were received. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. W. H Bullock-Webster, J. R. Carmichael, C. W. Pangman, R. E. Brett, Captain C. F. L. Money and W. F. Loveland.

ARDENDELL—The funeral of John Richard Ardendell, who died at the Royal Jubilee Hospital last Thursday, took place yesterday afternoon from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Relatives and many friends were present and there were many beautiful flowers. Rev. Dr. John Campbell officiated and the hymns sung were "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Messrs. M. Wilcock, Harold Alexander, Barton Alexander, L. Alexander, John Alexander and L. Ardendell acted as pallbearers, and interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

MYERS — Funeral service for Thomas Myers, who passed away in this city on Thursday, will be held this afternoon. The cortege will leave the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home at 2:45 o'clock, proceeding to St. Barnabas' Church, where service will be held at 3 o'clock. Rev. N. E. Smith will officiate, and interment will be made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

SCOTT—There passed away on Saturday at Vancouver, B.C., Mrs. Sarah Scott, relict of the late William Scott, formerly of 1277 Walnut Street. She is mourned by two daughters, Miss Jessie Scott and Mrs. Gladys Murdock, of 773 Richards, Street, Vancouver; also two sisters, Mrs. McCabe, of California, and Miss Alice Preece, of 1256 Walnut Street, Victoria, and a brother, William Preece, in Victoria. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from McCall Brothers' Funeral Home. Interment will be made in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

RAMSDALE—The funeral of Hannah Ramsdale, wife of Frederick Ramsdale, of 770 Hill Street, will take place on Wednesday afternoon from the Salvation Army Citadel on Broad Street. Service, conducted by Commandant Hedley Jones, will be held at 2:30 o'clock, after which interment will be made in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

SHARCOTT—There passed away yesterday, in the King's Daughters' Hospital, Mrs. Vera Matilda Sharcott, wife of Mr. William M. Sharcott, aged thirty-three years, eldest daughter of Mr. W. W. Carlow, of Sooke. The remains will arrive in this city on Wednesday and will be conveyed to the Sands Funeral Chapel, from where the funeral will take place Thursday at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS

NELSON, B.C., May 28.—Two local youths charged in court today with the theft of two autos, were given jail terms. One will serve one year and the other six months. The youth given a year will start his jail term at the conclusion of a four-year term in the reformatory, which sentence was meted out to him last week for theft of a bicycle.

Mrs. M. Papazian, of Nelson, B.C., with her two adopted Armenian orphan children, the little boy Levon and the girl Satenig.

BONDS STOLEN FROM VAULTS

Custodian of Vancouver Safety Deposit Company Arrested—Alleged Accomplice.

VANCOUVER, May 28.—A. B. Perman, Vancouver, custodian of the Vancouver Safety Deposit Company's vaults in the Board of Trade Building, was arrested today and charged with the theft of $20,000 worth of bonds.

James McD. Grossart, Vancouver, was also arrested and charged with retaining the bonds knowing them to be stolen. The bonds were the property of John McNeely. They were made up of fifteen $1,000 Province of Alberta bonds and five $1,000 Dominion bonds. The alleged theft occurred on October 3 and October 20, 1927, from McNeely's safety deposit box. The city police are endeavoring to get in touch with other persons who own boxes at the Safety Deposit Company's vaults for the purpose of checking up further shortages. The stolen bonds are thought by the police to be in Seattle.

Boards of Trade Will Convene at Qualicum Beach

QUALICUM BEACH, May 28.—The annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island has been definitely fixed for July 17 and 18 at Qualicum Beach, and in view of the attractions offered by this place, especially at this time of year, a large gathering is expected.

RYE HEADS OUT

WINNIPEG, Man., May 28.—A specimen of Fall rye, thirty inches high and heading out, was received by the Agriculture Department of the Canadian National Railways today from the farm of Walter Saward, Beulah, Manitoba. The rye was pulled last Thursday. Mr. Saward is a well-known agriculturist, and for a number of years has been identified with good seed trains of the Canadian National Railways, and with the seed exhibit at the Brandon Winter Fair.

FOSTER PARENTS PRAISE CHILDREN

Two Orphaned Armenians Are Finding Home With Fellow Countryman at Nelson

A practical demonstration of the merits of the climate and environment of British Columbia for the rearing of children is seen in the mental and physical development of Levon and Satenig Papazian, Armenian orphans, who were adopted a year ago by Mr. and Mrs. M. Papazian, of Nelson, B.C.

When these two children came to British Columbia last year their minds had already begun to be warped by the suffering and horrors they had witnessed in their homeland. They had had little education, and could speak only a few words of English. Today the little boy, Levon, aged eight, is the first in his class at school, and the girl, Satenig, eleven years old, is third.

"It has been a delight to see Satenig change from a moody ill-tempered girl, too old for her age, to a happy normal child with full promise of being a beautiful woman," states Mrs. Papazian. "It speaks worlds for our British Columbia climate and the peace and security of our adopted home. It also proves what fine types Armenia can produce, and what can be accomplished with them under proper conditions. The gratitude these children express for what is being done for them repays us a thousand times for giving them a Canadian home.

Levon recently celebrated his eighth birthday with a party at which he gave a speech in perfect English to his new-found friends. Only orphans 100 per cent perfect mentally and physically are sent to Canada for adoption, about ten coming each year.

The Papazians are Armenians, who have lived in British Columbia for several years. A campaign to raise funds for Armenian relief is now in progress.

Toc H. Meeting

The next meeting of the Victoria Group of Toc H will be held on Monday evening, June 4, at the Victoria Boy Scouts' headquarters, 1189 Yates Street. A special committee has been appointed to report at this meeting on an available location for Toc H headquarters which will be more central than the previous meeting places and which will serve as a regular home for Toc H Victoria.

The executive will meet at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon, June 1, in Spencer's private tea room.

VANCOUVER, May 28. — The death took place Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock, after a short illness, of Edward John McFeely, at his residence, Burnaby Street, in the sixty-fourth year of his life. He had retired about a month ago from active participation in the well-known firm of McLennan, McFeely & Company, Ltd., wholesale hardware, of which at that time he was president and managing director.

There is Twofold Economy in the Ostermoor

ECONOMY firstly — in health. For health feeds on sound sleep, and sleep can have no finer foundation than an Ostermoor. Only clean, new cotton is used in the Ostermoor. Its deep felted layers are laid and tufted by hand to form a cushiony bed whose luxury has no equal.

Economy again—in long years of service. There are countless Ostermoors throughout the Dominion purchased 30 years ago, and still in A-1 condition.

You cannot put $25 into any other mattress today and get so much value — quality, usage and sound sleep.

HOW IT HAPPENED

"Did you follow my prescription?" inquired the physician.

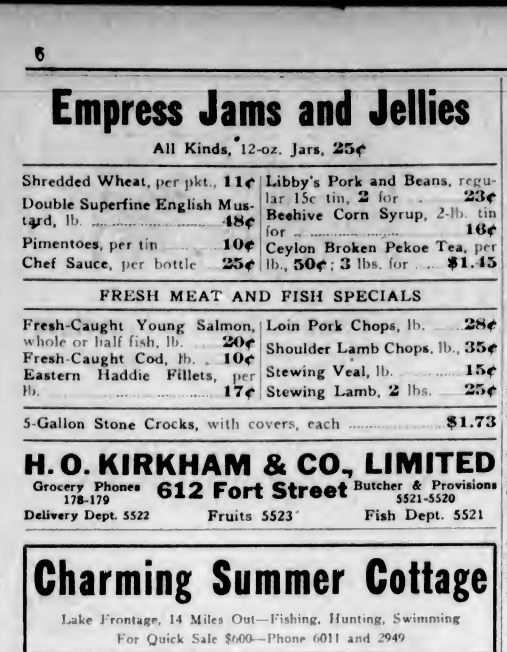

"No," replied the patient. "If I had I should have broken my neck, because I threw it out of the window."

HENCE THE HEAT

A visitor who came into a business man's office gasped—"My goodness, this place is a regular oven!"

"So it ought to be," grunted the other, "it's where I make my daily bread."

It's hard to excuse Dishpan Hands

'Guests arriving—everything perfect except . . .'

'MY dinner table, set with all my best china for our dinner to Jim's new friends, had never looked prettier. But it made my poor hands look dreadfully coarse by comparison. They simply broadcasted 'Dishpan!'

"And because I know it's just such little things that others judge us by, I became self-conscious . . . ill at ease . . . at my own dinner table.

"Of course it was foolish of me. With Lux always in the house I was still using old-fashioned harsh soap for the dishes. Until that night I had not realized just how pitifully rough and red it made my hands look.

"Now I use Lux for all my dishes. And for cleaning, too! My hands no longer are reddened and coarse. I'm really PROUD now of my dinner-table hands."

Many household soaps—flakes, chips and cakes—are made in the old-fashioned way. They contain harmful alkali that makes the skin rough.

There is no injurious alkali in Lux. Made by a remarkable process, Lux actually SOOTHES the skin, leaves it a little whiter and softer than before.*

Instant, sparkling Lux suds, ready before you ever put your hands in, are so rich and CLEANSING that the dishes seem almost to wash themselves!

The big package of Lux washes six weeks' dishes! Lovely hands for so small a price!

* Many beauty parlors use Lux in manicuring the nails, to soften and whiten the fingers.

Lux keeps lovely the hands that wash dishes

City and District

Contract Awarded — Mr. J. P. Buckle was awarded the contract by the City Council last night for the printing of 16,000 tax notices. His bid was $154.

Eagles to Convene—The convention of the Western District Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will be held in Vancouver on June 27 to 31, Mayor L. D. Taylor announces.

Vote on Beer—The residents of Alert Bay, in answer to a petition, will take a vote on whether there shall be beer parlors allowed in that centre. The voting will take place on June 16.

Superannuation—The civic service committee of the city council was instructed to take the necessary steps to put the superannuation of civic employees into effect at last night's meeting.

Car Stolen—Mr. H. E. Hunnings, of 262 Wolseley Avenue, reported to the police last evening that his car had been stolen from the corner of View and Blanshard Streets, some time after 8:30 o'clock.

City Investment—On the recommendation of the finance committee the City Council last night decided to buy for sinking fund investment £225 City of Victoria four and a half per cent debenture stock, due 1962, at 91.87, to yield five per cent interest.

Colored Scenes — The Publicity Bureau has on display a number of large hand-colored photographs of Island scenes including tall timber, the Empress Hotel grounds and harbor, the new Esquimalt drydock, Butchart's Sunken Gardens and views from the summit of the Malahat Drive.

Boys' Orchestra Gains New Members—The Victoria Boys' Orchestra gave an attractive programme of music at the garden party held at Government House grounds on Saturday, in connection with the Boy Scouts. Mr. C. H. Rowles, the leader, was praised for the work he was doing, while several new boys were enrolled.

Strike Threat Halted Work—The calling out of members of the structural iron and steel workers in the East led the men engaged by the Canadian Bridge Company in placing a span across Qualicum River for the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway to suspend work late last week. It was reported yesterday that a settlement was expected shortly.

Votes of Thanks—Resolutions of appreciation were passed by the city council last night to the school board for the part the school children had taken in the May 24 celebration, and to Mr. Joseph North for his kindness in looking after the children of the Protestant Orphanage, old men and aged women during the parade.

Rose Carnival—An invitation from Portland to the city to send a representative and a float to the Rose Carnival to be held there in June, was referred to the entertainment committee for report. Alderman Adam expressed the opinion that the city should be represented at this celebration, which was one of the largest on the Pacific Coast.

High School Staff—Two new appointments to the Victoria High School staff were announced at the school board office yesterday. Mr. Ernest J. Knapton, B.A., of the University of British Columbia, and Oxford, will teach history, and Mr. Frank H. Buck, B.A., of the University of British Columbia, will teach classics and history.

Tourist Stories—Articles on Victoria, issued by the Publicity Bureau, will appear in the July issue of The International Motorist, of Spokane, and in The Idaho Motorist, published at Boise, in July The Oregonian, Portland, has requested the bureau to supply them with an article on the courtesies extended tourists to Victoria.

Convention Coming—An excursion of 1,400 delegates to the National Credit Men's Association convention at Seattle will come to Victoria on June 13. A request was made to the City Council last night by the Chamber of Commerce to provide music at a luncheon to be held in their honor at the Armories. The application was referred to the finance committee for report.

Band Concerts—Starting this Sunday, band concerts will be held at Beacon Hill Park on Sunday afternoons. It was decided at last night's meeting of the city council to give the contract for the first four concerts to the City Temple Band, and for the next five concerts to the 16th Canadian Scottish Band. This leaves four other concerts to be arranged for. Each concert will cost the city $120.

Memorial to Brother—Members of the A.O.F. and the I.O.G.T. assembled at Ross Bay Cemetery on Sunday afternoon to pay tribute to the late Benjamin Cooper, well known for his work among the juvenile members, and associated with the Foresters for more than forty years. A headstone was dedicated, Rev. T. W. Gladstone officiating. Rev. C. M. Tate spoke for the Good Templars and Mrs. Pilgrim for the Foresters. Mr. Cooper was connected with Court Victoria, A.O.F., and Triumph Lodge, I.O.G.T.

Fire Calls—The city fire department was called out three times yesterday morning when the wind was at its height. At 9 o'clock a fire truck responded to a call to the effect that there was a bush fire at the corner of Landsdowne Road and Beach Drive. This was followed by a call at 9:15 to put out a chimney fire at 169 Beach Drive. A third alarm was sent in a half-hour later. This was to get under control a sawdust pile that had been burning and threatened to spread owing to the wind blowing sparks in all directions.

Pays Under Protest—Under the ruling of the Government, the estate of the late Isaac Untermyer, New York financier, will pay $130,000 to the provincial treasury in succession duties on Premier Mine stock. The value of Premier stock for assessment purposes is based on a valuation of $2.10 per share. Solicitors for the Untermyer estate are appealing against this valuation to the Supreme Court of Canada, but meanwhile have agreed to the payment of about $130,000 on the $2.10 figure on the understanding that the Government will repay any amount beyond that fixed by the courts, with interest.

Coming to Victoria—Mr. W. R. Ewald, director of the travel service department of the Campbell-Ewald Company, who came to the Pacific Coast to address the Direct-by-Mail Advertising Convention in San Francisco, is on his way here. Accompanied by Mrs. Ewald and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Shaw, he is motoring up the coast, to confer with representatives of his clients. The company maintains personal contact with thousands of newspapers and periodicals all over the United States and Canada through a travel service of twenty-two men. Mr. and Mrs. Ewald will return to Detroit after the visit to Victoria and Vancouver. They were in Seattle yesterday.

N. Saanich Social Club

The boys' and girls' annual bicycle races, under the auspices of the North Saanich Social Club were held on Saturday afternoon, commencing promptly at 2:30 o'clock. The course extended from the Bazen Bay Cash Store, along the East Road and down School Crossroad to the club hall.

Twenty-five girls and boys entered the races, and the competitors were handicapped, due allowanace being made for age, size, condition of bicycle, etc.

The races aroused great interest among the younger members of the club, and keen rivalry prevailed. The day being an ideal one for the races, a large number of interested spectators assembled at the finishing line, and gave lusty support to the winners. In both races, every contestant finished.

In the boys' race Victor Heal came in first, and will receive the gold medal presented by Mr. Harris, of Harris & Smith, Victoria. Wesley Jones came in second, and will receive the bronze medal presented by Mr. Harris. Peter Ricketts received third prize, and Charlie Sansbury a special prize for finishing in fourth place.

In the girls' race Agnes Holmes received first prize, and Vera Heal second prize.

Points on the race for the quickest time, which count towards the Spencer Challenge Cup, went to Wesley Jones, three points; Peter Ricketts, two points, and Frank Hill, one point; Agnes Holmes, three points; Sylvia Gurton, two points, and Nesta Carter and Irene Lambert, tie, and each receive one point.

At the termination of the race the children assembled at the hall and the Ladies' Auxiliary served refreshments. The prizes won by the children will be presented to them at the concert to be held on June 1.

The North Saanich Social Club was the scene of a very merry gathering on Saturday evening, when the regular weekly card party was held in the clubrooms, School Crossroads.

Progressive five hundred was played at fourteen tables, and twenty hands resulted in the prizes being presented to Mrs. H. L. Ricketts and Mr. A. Sansbury.

Following the game, refreshments were served by the supper committee, coffee being poured by the younger members, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, the music being supplied by Mrs. Horth and Mr. Livesey.

The sports committee of the social club is holding a concert and dance in the club hall on Friday evening, June 1, commencing promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Many very amusing numbers will be presented, and a band of sixteen pieces will be in attendance. Following the concert refreshments will be served and the remainder of the evening spent in dancing. The entire proceeds of the evening will be devoted to sports equipment.

City Police Court

A fine of $20 was imposed by Magistrate George Jay in the city police court yesterday upon John B. Dawson, who was charged with driving his automobile to the common danger on Gorge Road on May 18. The defendant pleaded not guilty. Testifying for the prosecution, Motorcycle Officer James Patterson told the court that he had checked Dawson's sped, and found the defndant was driving at the rate of forty miles per hour.

George Gardner was charged with driving to the common danger on Belleville Street on May 15. He pleaded not guilty through his counsel, Mr. Arthur J. Patton, and the case was remanded until tomorrow.

Charged with driving to the common danger, Gerald Sandy was remanded until tomorrow morning, Mr. O. C. Bass appeared as counsel for the defence.

A remand until tomorrow was granted by his honor in the case of Nellie Anderson, who faces a statutory charge.

The cases of Angus Chilton and Sidney Sangster, both charged with shouting at passengers on an incoming steamer from a point in the vicinity of the C.P.R. docks, were stood over until next Monday.

Brake Regulation On Cars Explained By Inspector Hood

THE new provincial traffic regulations are in effect, Inspector Hood, of the Provincial Police, announced yesterday. In order to clarify the situation concerning the testing of automobile brakes, he pointed out that only managers or owners of garages could issue certificates to show that the brakes had been tested. The cost of securing such a certificate would be a matter between the owner of the car and the garage, he said.

CEREMONY AT ST. ANN'S ACADEMY IS PICTURESQUE

An interesting ceremony took place at St. Ann's Academy on Sunday afternoon, when the time-honored custom of "The Crowning of Our Lady" was observed.

The pupils of the school in their white dresses, wearing veils and crowned with wreaths of flowers, moved in slow procession along the winding pathways, followed by the white-veiled novices and the black-robed sisters, reciting aloud the Rosary and chanting hymns.

At the outdoor shrine of Our Lady the ceremony of crowning was performed by Miss Mary Thomson, little Marie Tindel acting as crown-bearer.

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Leterme, V.G., recited the Litany of Loretto, and officiated at the benediction in the convent chapel, following the ceremonies in the garden.

Benediction was sung by the convent choir and a brief address was given by Monsignor Leterme.

The Festival of Pentecost was observed in St. Andrew's Cathedral with due solemnity, by the celebration at 11 o'clock of pontifical high mass, at which His Lordship Bishop O'Donnell officiated, with Rev. Father C. E. Evans as deacon and Rev. Father F. Smith as subdeacon. Rev. Father Sobry and Rev. Father Ethelbert and a large number of acolytes were also in attendance in the sanctuary.

The high altar was ablaze with candles and decorated with carnations, and the choir, under the direction of Mr. J. Q. Gillan, with Miss Marguerite MacKay at the organ, rendered special music. After the high mass and the papal benediction, the bishop conferred the sacrament of confirmation upon a large class of boys and girls.

HOME BANK CREDITORS

OTTAWA, May 28.—To supplement the provisions of the Home Bank Creditors' Relief Act of 1925, the sum of $460,000 has been placed in the supplementary estimates tabled in the House of Commons Saturday night. According to the purposes described in the estimates, the money is to provide for payments:

A—To certain creditors having approved claims of over $500, whose application for relief were made after the expiration of twelve months from the date of the passing of the act, and,

B—To creditors having approved claims of not more than $500 when applied for.

CIVILIZED PEOPLE GROW OLD PREMATURELY

True—but they do not need to—entirely due to wrong living, chiefly wrong foods. The blood must be alkaline, but civilization's foods are acid-forming, which breaks down cellular resistance and brings on early ageing and disease.

Civilization's chief foods are derived from grains. All grain foods, even whole grains, are acid-forming, with one exception. Refining and removing the darker parts make them excessively so. Roman Meal is one quarter alkaline flaxin, which makes it the opposite of all other grain foods. Roman Meal will destroy the acids formed by other foods and vitalize and invigorate the body on the hottest day in Summer. It is delicious uncooked or served off the ice. Write for his new uncooked Roman Meal recipe and his free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," to Dr. Rob't G. Jackson, 315 Vine Ave., Toronto (9), Ont. (Adv't.)

JAPAN'S ACTION IS ENDORSED

GOVERNOR OF HONG KONG ARRIVES ON EMPRESS OF RUSSIA

Sir Cecil Clementi Says "Open Door" Must Be Maintained in China—Silk Cargo

Although the British Government is pursuing sound policy in refraining from interference with warring factions attempting to settle the destiny of strife-torn China, if Japan decides to play the role of policeman to the Chinese, neither Britain nor any other world power should intervene—provided "the open door" is maintained—in the belief of Sir Cecil Clementi, K.C.M.G., Governor of Hong Kong.

With this opinion Sir Cecil occupied, on his arrival here from the Orient Sunday on his way to England, doubt that the present drive of the Nationalists would reach its coveted goal at Peking and that normal national life would ever be developed in China until the establishment of various regional governments instead of a central authority.

HONEYMOON RECALLED

It was with a reminiscent smile for British Columbia that the noted diplomat met newspapermen aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia. Sixteen years ago, he confided, he spent his honeymoon in this province, partly on King's Isle, Lower Campbell Lake, Vancouver Island, and then a month on horseback on the trail to Lytton. "I have very pleasant memories of this country," he observed.

Sir Cecil said he expected to be in England until December. With his wife and four children he left for the East Sunday night from Vancouver.

Britain's only stake in China, he said, is trade, but the Empire's commerce with that country is only about five per cent of British foreign business. Japan, on the other hand, he added, does about fifty per cent of her trading with the Chinese. Hence, he explained, while Britain would suffer no staggering blow from the loss of her Chinese trade, it is of paramount importance to the Japanese that there be no serious interruption to their commercial dealings with China.

ACTION APPROVED

Not only would Japan, Britain and the outside world generally benefit from Japanese action to enforce peace and order in China, but the Chinese also would find it advantageous, Sir Cecil said.

The truth is, he contended, that unification of China is just an ideal, a dream no more tangible than the visionary United States of Europe. Taking the European continent as a parallel, he pointed out that exactly as European nations speak different languages although all use the same Latin alphabetic symbols, so in China is there a multitude of tongues, although the characters are similar."

"You cannot trade with a people who are in turmoil," he said. "There must be security."

The Empress of Russia had an uneventful voyage from the Orient. She carried practically a capacity list of 952 passengers in all classes. Her cargo totaled 2,120 tons, fifty-five of which were discharged here. Included in her cargo was a shipment of silk valued at $3,000,000. She sailed for Vancouver at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

NEW TO THE TEACHER

During the history lesson the teacher asked the question: "What do you know of Margaret of Anjou?"

"She was very fat, sir," answered one boy.

This was new to the teacher, and he asked for the lad's authority.

"It's in the book, sir. Among Henry's stoutest supporters was Margaret of Anjou."

Frank Troeh Winner

SEATTLE, May 28.—Frank Troeh, of Portland, yesterday won the unofficial world's trapshooting title from Mark Arie, of Champaign, Ill., 491 to 489.

In a 500 target match for a purse of $500, a side wager of $2,000, and the unofficial title, Troeh came from behind to defeat the Easterner.

The Seattle Gun Club team won the championship shoot-off of The Post-Intelligencer's Western Washington Telegraphic League for the second year in succession.

G. A. Smith, of Long Beach, Cal., and K. K. McBrown, of Olympia, tied for first place in the special 100 target event with a score of ninety-nine.

SANKEY TRIAL

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 28.—Mr. Justice Aulay Morrison, in Assize Court today, opened the new trial of Joseph Sankey, Indian, who is charged with the murder of Loretta Chisholm, school teacher, at Port Essington, on May 22, 1926. A blackboard has been erected in the courtroom so that diagrams showing location of objects found near the scene of the tragedy may be drawn for information of the jurymen.

J. Edward Bird is counsel for the accused. A Johnson, K.C., of Victoria, and Milton Gonzales, of Prince Rupert, assisted by Inspector W. V. E. Spiller, of the Provincial Police, appear for the Crown.

Mrs. Jones: "It seems very funny—some people die all of a sudden and some live till the last minute."

You, Too, Can Know the Joy of Wash-Day Freedom

Wash day is just as unnecessary in your home as spinning, weaving, or any of the other old-fashioned home toils of our grandmothers' time. The necessity of confining wash day labors is a thing of the past. Today the modern woman, the healthy woman, the happy woman, knows the joys of wash day freedom. It gives her more time for pleasure and for her family. This wash day freedom is offered to every woman in Victoria, and at a cost much less than you anticipate.

LOCAL DELEGATES ATTEND SESSION

National Council of Women's Missionary Society of Presbyterian Church to Meet in Vancouver

Accompanying Mrs. D. T. L. McKerroll, of Toronto, who spoke at St. Andrew's Church last Sunday evening on the work of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church, local delegates of the Presbyterial W.M.S., left on yesterday's afternoon boat for Vancouver to attend the annual provincial gathering that will open today. The provincial meeting will be followed by the National Council of the Presbyterian Church of which Mrs. McKerroll is president.

Mrs. J. Cotsford, who is president of the Victoria Presbyterial, and Mrs. James Macintosh, first vice-president, will represent Vancouver Island on the National Council, which is composed of 120 members. This is the first meeting of the council on the Coast since 1908 and will bring together the leaders in Presbyterian missionary work from the whole of Canada. Among the attractive personalities expected is Dr. O'Hara, who was one of the first women doctors to practise in India and who received from the King the Kaiser-i-Hind medal. Miss O'Hara will return with the Victoria delegates and will speak in St. Paul's Church next Sunday evening.

The other delegates to the provincial meeting are Mrs. R. A. Brown, Miss La Pointe and Miss Lightbody, of St. Andrew's; Mrs. T. A. Humphries, of St. Paul's, superintendent of mission bands; Mrs. J. Dempsey and Mrs. Dempsey, press and supply secretaries; Mrs. Richardson, of Sooke; Mrs. T. H. Davies, of Knox, and Mrs. Maars of Gorge Church. The delegates will return on Saturday at the close of the council meetings.

GROWERS SEEK MORE PICKERS

Approach of Strawberry Season Marked by Rush on Local Employment Office

Within the next two or possibly three weeks the strawberry pickers will be in the fields, and the Women's Branch of the Employment Service is asking for a greater enrolment of pickers.

The acreage under cultivation as strawberry fields is increasing year by year, and the demand for pickers grows accordingly. During the past ten years the girls and women of Victoria and surrounding districts have done most of the picking, and it would seem as if this particular industry has established itself as an occupation, which is to be held in the hands of the female worker.

The season and the work appeal to many women, as an occasion of a healthful holiday, and one which leaves the holiday maker with more money in pocket than at the beginning.

The Keating district, because it lies a little further from the city than that of Gordon Head, presents the greater problem, because of transportation facilities, and consequently it is for that district that the greater effort must be made o meet the demand of the grower for pickers.

Every day the employment office is visited by growers to make inquiries as to the help to be secured, and to make their application for pickers. To those pickers who are able to live during the picking season out on the strawberry fields, the grower supplies tent, cottage or shack, bed, cook stove, wood and water, and the picker takes out with her, blankets, cooking and eating utensils and food supplies. Many of the growers have during the past few years built comfortable, clean shacks, in which their pickers may be housed.

For those pickers whose family responsibility is such that they must be home at night, best possible arrangements will be made for their transportation.

An early registration of pickers is desirable, that the harvesting of the strawberry crop may be assured and that Victoria pickers may be in possession of the money which must be paid out for the harvesting of the crop.

A cabaret supper dance will be held at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday, June 6, by the Commodore Broughton Chapter, I.O.D.E., in aid of their funds. This chapter is particularly talented and has given several attractive turns at recent I.O.D.E. gatherings. The cabaret programme will include numbers in costume by Mrs. D. B. McConnan and chorus in "Diane"; Miss Betty Savannah and chorus in "Rain"; Miss Helen Starr and chorus in a French number; Miss Eleanor Robertson and chorus in a Hungarian dance, and Miss Irene Bick and Miss Eileen Dumbleton in an Italian peasant instrumental number.

Weddings

CAMBREY—THAME

On Saturday at Breadalbane, Windsor Road, Rev. Dr. Campbell united in marriage Katie Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Thame, 126 St. Lawrence Street, to James Cambrey, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cambrey, Reynolds Street, Saanich. Miss Violet Hearn, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. George Cambrey. A reception was held at the bridegroom's home. After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Cambrey will make their home in Saanich.

To Consider League From New Angle

The League of Nations and its relationship to Bible prediction, will be discussed tonight by Professor C. T. Everson, at the Everson Tabernacle, Pandora Avenue and Vancouver Street.

Professor Everson promises to read out of the Bible seven words that, he says, stand right in the road and bar the way to the success of the league.

He adds: "It will not be a political discussion. I am not trying to show that the nations are against God, because they are seeking to form a League of Nations. I believe in government and so does the Bible. But great lines of prophecy are found in the Bible, and they tell what the future has in store for nations just as they foretold what would happen to men. God can write down the future events with the same certainty that the historian can jot down the happenings of the past. We have read about the league, and listened to it discussed by the hour, and have thus assimilated the best thoughts of best thinkers concerning it. I intend to present not man's opinion, but God's opinion of the future of the League of Nations. If you get God's opinion on this important question, then you will know what the future has in store for the league."

HAND NO. 146

South is the dealer. What is the proper bidding and play?

In the next issue Mr. Whitehead will explain the salient points in the bidding and play of the above hand. Fill out your own chart and compare it with his method.

These hands must not be bid or played "Double Dummy," i.e., as though all four hands were exposed.

NOTE—In recording the Auction, or the play, use "S" for Spades, "H" for Hearts, "D" for Diamonds, and "C" for Clubs. Use "NT" for No Trump, "DBL" for double, "REDBL" for redouble.

Salient Points of the Bidding

North raises his partner's bid to two No Trumps to shut out a lead-directing bid by East, which, if made and passed by South, might leave North in a quandary as to his best procedure.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 1. Before playing the Ace of Diamonds to Trick 1, South stops to count his hand. He has nine positive tricks, sure game, and sees a chance for a Grand Slam. To make it he must not only find a favorable break in Spades, Hearts and Clubs, but must also apparently win a Spade finesse. This finesse he plans to delay, however, until all possible indications can be obtained as to the distribution of the suit.

Trick 2. With no reason for choice of leads as between Clubs and Hearts, Declarer selects Clubs.

Trick 10. At this point Declarer is able to read West's holding. He must have the King and Queen of Diamonds; and his remaining two cards must be high Spades. With low or indifferent cards of that suit, he would undoubtedly have discarded them in preference to his established Diamonds, but the discard of a high Spade would have revealed the Spade situation too clearly to the Declarer. Declarer places West therefore with the Q-10 of Spades, or possibly with the Q-9. Whichever the holding, Declarer can take the remaining tricks by playing the 8 in Dummy on his lead of the Ace.

...and She had wanted to be a BOY...

Miss Geneviere Page

Lips curved to laughter ... lithe freedom in her movements ... her coloring represents one of twenty-four types into which Canadian women—varied as our fathers' national strains—may be divided.

GIRL-THINGS held small appeal during school and college. "Women all make up alike," her plaint. "Like dolls. I'd rather be a man and just look natural." Fond of boots and knickers, through no amount of suasion would she fluff her hair or plan a dainty wardrobe. This until—he dawned upon her vision. Then, self-conscious, groping—how to be alluring became her chief concern. Finally his chance remark concerning a stage favorite set her thinking:

"There is a wise woman. She had the cleverness to recognize and develop her own charm. She always dares to be herself."

So that might be the answer . . . to be lovely and yet remain herself . . . Soon she learned of Pompeian's type investigation—and the rest was simple . . . Then his artless tribute to her natural—yet, in some strange manner, new and elusive—glow. He called her his Wild Rose Girl.

Through Type Accentuation lies the Surest Path to Beauty

And you who read this—have you as wisely solved your problem? Do you know your type? Look seriously into your mirror. Do you really know the tint of your skin? For it is your skin that points the way to undiscovered natural loveliness.

Learn your type and accentuate it. Emphasize your natural coloring. Bring out your own skin-tone . . . This if you would have the individuality that every woman craves.

And how to go about it? Match your skin—exactly—with powder. Years of research have made this possible. Now, in the five natural shades of Pompeian Beauty Powder, is one to match your skin like pearl to pearl. Apply it, after a touch of Pompeian Bloom—a rouge that holds your natural flush in one of five vibrant shades.

Then let your mirror—and your friends—pass judgment. See the you emerging—a new self, more personable, more individual, and with a beauty quality heretofore unknown.

Memorial Service at Toronto

TORONTO, May 28.—From all parts of Canada delegates are here to attend the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the National Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire.

Although the convention does not officially begin until the address of welcome tonight, an inspiring and fitting ceremony took place on Sunday when a memorial tablet was unveiled at Ancaster, Ont., to Mrs. Clementino Pessenden.

As founder of Empire Day, Mrs. Fessenden lives in the hearts of all members of the I.O.D.E. She is buried in the little graveyard of St. John's Church, Ancaster, where her husband was rector for seven years. At a service yesterday, Rev. W. D. Kidd, the present rector, paid tribute in glowing terms to the woman who did much to instill ideals of patriotism into Canadian youth.

This morning registration of delegates began, but the business session proper does not start until Tuesday.

An ambitious programme has been planned for the week. Topics to be discussed will include immigration, child welfare work, the League of Nations, work of the order's war memorial, and other matters dealing with the patriotic and educatfonal work of the order. There also will be reports of the affiliated societies.

"Adequate Supply of Vitamins Essential to Health"

Statement of Great British Food Authority

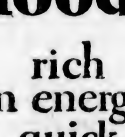

Professor R. H. A. Plimmer, Professor of Chemistry in the University of London, and one of the world's greatest authorities on dietetics, says of Marmite:

"Life cannot be maintained without an adequate supply of Vitamin B. The absence of this vitamin from the food has caused thousands of deaths from beri-beri in the Far East, and the disease has been prevented by eating foods rich in this vitamin.

"In this country there are no deaths from beri-beri, but many people suffer chronic illness as a result of too little of this vitamin in the food. A connection between constipation and consequent colitis, chronic appendicitis and innumerable other digestive troubles and diseases consequent on them, is now being traced to the smallness of the amount of Vitamin B in the food. This is the starting point of all the gastro-intestinal diseases that fill our hospitals.

"This shortage of Vitamin B is easily overcome, as was shown on a larger scale during the war, by a daily addition to the food of small amounts of Marmite. The best way of taking Marmite is either as soup, or spread upon bread to make sandwiches. It can be taken at any time of the day to suit individual convenience."

For your health's sake, get a supply of Marmite from your grocer to-day.

MARMITE

The Great British Yeast Food for Health and Good Cooking

Packed in 1-oz., 2-oz., 4-oz., 8-oz. and 16-oz. jars and in 7-lb. tins

N.B.—If your grocer has not yet received his supply, write direct to Kelly, Douglas & Co., Ltd., 367 Water St., Vancouver, B.C., enclosing 10c. A generous sample, together with recipe book containing 60 delicious Marmite health dishes, will be sent to you. 18

DANCING REVUE TRIUMPH OF ART

Academy Pupils Acquit Themselves With Honor at Playhouse —Programme Enjoyed

One of the most varied and interesting pupils' dance programmes ever given in the city attracted a large audience to the Playhouse Theatre last evening when Miss Mona Jewell's Dancing Academy gave their "Revue of 1928." The long programme went without a break, each item receiving much applause and several encores being demanded. The dancing was unusually graceful and showed the result of many months' training with attention to the most minute details. Even the tiny ballet dancers and the diminutive jockey were in perfect time and danced with as much grace and agility as many of the older and more practised of the pupils.

Kathleen Gaiger read the prologue, and part one was a charming fairy scene entitled "The Fairies' Lesson." Children taking part in this fantastic and clever interpretation included Fay Ockenden, Muriel Ross, Sybil Holyoak, Ella Watson, Jeanne Osgood, Gracie Hay, Rosy Aaronson, Margaret Welsh, Eileen Chislett, Mildred Graham, Margaret Armstrong, Evelyn Curtis, Jean Fenwick, Edith Rundell, with Amelia as the solo dancer. During the intermission which followed part one, Miss Olive Jordan recited.

Each number in the second part of the programme was well received, the little dancers, gaining assurance as the evening progressed, delighting the audience with their charming dance steps. The soft lighting and the particularly beautiful costumes added greatly to the general effect of the entire programme. Miss Mona Jewell and the Misses Hay and Webster gave the Highland fling; May Price and Joan Hawkins, Welsh dance; the Pierette Girls did a delightfully arranged pierette dance; Midget Fitzgerald and Betty Cotching, two tiny tots in pretty satin frocks and pantelettes did a "Coquette Dance"; the sailors' hornpipe was a popular number, and in "Spring's Awakening," by some of the older pupils, Doris Aaronson was the solo dancer. The Dutch dance was a colorful number, and a pierette ballet in which Fay Ockenden, Dorothy Ralfs, Gracie Townsend and Doris Sharp took part, was one of the most picturesque. Muriel Ross and Gracie Hay supplied the comic touch to the programme, the audience showing its appreciation of the children's interpretation of "East Side, West Side" by renewed applause necessitating an encore. Sybil Holyoak and Cecilia Webster were light and nimble Russian dancers, and Bonita Johnson, in a beautiful Chinese costume, deserved special mention for her dance. Eileen Chislett, as an old-fashioned girl, danced with much charm, "The Colonial Girl."

The Baby Colleens took part in the Irish jig; Hilda Hurst was a vivacious gypsy, and Sadie Gemmell added a new note to her jazz dance. Ella Watson and her chorus in their song and dance, "On a Dew-Dew-Dewy Day" was undoubtedly among the most outstanding, the tiny kiddies giving a most remarkable demonstration of Charleston steps in their chorus, and the solo part was sung by little Ella, a possessor of a sweetly pretty voice. There was a doll dance and beach scene, the latter being a series of graceful acrobatic stunts; Lilian Toye and Clara Rowbottom danced the tango; in the "Dance Militaire" the following took part: Margaret Bearse, Helen Rood, Violet Holt and Violet Robertson; Evelyn Eva, Frances Borde, Betty Trevett and Frances Creed took part in the "Vanity Dance," and little David Aaronson proved to be a real "star" in his "Jockey Dance," which he gave with extraordinary vivacity and in perfect time. Cecilia Webster gave an interpretation of "Following in Father's Footsteps."

"The Three Fairy Gifts" concluded the programme, Lillian Toye taking the part of the fairy queen; Dorothy Hill, Fairy Mopsa; Vera Gracie Townsend; fairy elfin, Irene Brockington; Cynthia, Doris Sharp; Violet, Dorothy Ralfs. The solo dancers were Elaine Shepheard and Dolly Bradshaw.

ST. BARNABAS' GUILD ARRANGES CONCERT

Under the auspices of St. Barnabas' Guild, a concert will be held on Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock, in the schoolroom, corner of Cook and Caledonia Avenue. Mrs. P. Edmund Corby is in charge of the programme arrangements, and a good deal of local talent of a high standard has been obtained. Among those taking part, will be Miss Audrey Wood, L.A.B., Major W. G. H. Firth, Mrs. W. Ellis, Master Ted Coton (silver medalist), Mrs. Sydney Oliver, Mr. J. V. Scrivener and Miss Nellie Scowcroft (gold medalist).

Major Bulock-Webster will direct a short farce entitled "The New Poor," in which Miss Noel Cusack, Miss Lorna Coton, Mrs. J. W. Davis, Miss Phyllis Taylor, and Mr. Noel Jones will take part.

The proceeds of the concert will go towards a fund for improving the schoolroom, and doing some of the necessary repairs to the building. The Guild works to obtain funds for church expenses and has done a great deal of work in this connection.

LECTURE ON WALES SET FOR TONIGHT

Mr. Digain Williams will give a lecture on Wales in the First United Church schoolroom tonight at 8:15 o'clock with Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson as chairman. There will be selections by the Victoria Welsh Choir, under the conductorship of Mr. D. C. Hughes, with Mrs. Rhonwen Mason as accompanist; also the festival prize quartette, composed of Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Miss M. Simpson, Mr. J. M. Thomas and Mr. J. Loudon, will assist. Mr. Williams is visiting here at the present time from San Francisco.

ATTENDED FESTIVAL

METCHOSIN, May 28.—Seventeen Sunday school children from St. Mary's Church and the Quarantine Church attended the Children's Festival at the new Cathedral on Saturday afternoon. They were accompanied by Mesdames Bolton and Cornwall. The banner was carried by R. Gray.

Yanks Moving Merrily Along at Expense of Philadelphia Athletics

American League Champions Gain Strangle Hold Grip on Pennant Race—Cincinnati Reds Increase Lead in National League

AMERICAN LEAGUE

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—The New York Yankees increased their grip on the American League lead to a practical strangle hold of eight full games here today by overpowering the Athletics in the last game of the long series 11-4.

The game marked the second failure of Robert Moses Grove to hold the Yankees in this series. The Athletics game him a lead of four to two in the third when Simmons capped a rally with a home run with two on bases. The Yanks came right back in the fifth with a five-run assault. Dugan got his third circuit blow of the series in the ninth with one on base.

Double Steal Wins Game

BOSTON, May 28.—A double steal and an error by Gerber, Reds' shortstop, gave Washington a 2-0 victory here today. Ed. Morris, Red Sox recruit pitcher, and Zachary both turned in good games, but the breaks favored the Senators. Goslin and Judge, after both had singled, engineered the double steal.

The second game was postponed on account of rain.

Only four games, including the double-header, were scheduled.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CHICAGO, May 28.—Pete Donohue, erstwhile holdout, worked his first game of the season for Cincinnati here today and pitched and batted the Reds to a 2-1 victory over the Cubs in the opener of their four-game series. The victory increased Cincinnati's lead in the National League race to two and a half games.

Donohue, backed by keen fielding, held the Cubs to five scattered safeties, while Bush, who hurled eight innings when he was jerked for a pinch hitter, allowed ten. Only one game was scheduled.

AERIAL GOLF MATCH STAGED

Two in Air and Pair on Ground Play Nine Holes in Unique Fashion

GARDEN CITY, N.Y., May 28.—The first aerial golf match ever played over the old Westbury golf course, was staged yesterday.

H. P. Merrill, flying a monoplane, paired with William Hammond, on the ground beat, Arthur Caperton in the air and William Winston on the ground, completing nine holes in twenty-eight to their opponents' thirty-two.

All four players are pilots at Curtiss Field, which adjoins the course.

Play on each hole was started with each aerial contestant dropping a ball as close to the hole as possible. This counted as one stroke. The player then proceeded as in a regular game.

The winners holed the ball in two at the par five, sixth hole.

HAMILTON WINS

MONTREAL, May 28.—Entrants from Hamilton Central Collegiate carried off more honors in the annual Dominion interscholastic track and field meet here Saturday, scoring a total of fifty-five points. Delta Collegiate, of Hamilton, finished second with thirty-four. Several new marks were established.

Captures Upper Island Golf Championship for Second Time by Defeating Jack Matson in Final

MRS. KENNEDY WINS WOMEN'S HONORS

QUALICUM BEACH, May 28.—Overcoming a three-hole lead at the end of the first eighteen to square the match at the twenty-seventh hole, Norman Thornton Fell, of Victoria, successfully defended his title as Upper Island golf champion here yesterday, when he defeated Jack Matson, also of Victoria, 3 and 2 in the final thirty-six-hole match. It was the second time in two successive years that the pair had met in the finals, Fell emerging victorious on each occasion.

The champion's sparkling 35 in the first nine of the second eighteen out, Matson's three-hole lead at the end of the first round, and the pair entered the last nine all square. Fell won the twenty-eighth hole to go one up, increased his lead to two in the next hole, and won the match with a "birdie" on the thirty-fourth. Matson was in the fight all the way, but was just short on the champion's play.

MRS. KENNEDY WINNER

Mrs. Kennedy, who was runner-up last year, won the women's title when she defeated Mrs. Havermeyer 5 and 4 in the final round. The titleholder took an early lead, increased it as the match progressed and came in a winner with plenty to spare.

E. Peacock won the first flight honors, defeating A. J. Foster 6 and 4 in the final. The second flight went to J. B. Borland, who won from Colonel Smith 4 and 2. General Money defeated C. E. Wilson in the final of the third flight.

Miss Carey carried off honors in the women's first flight by defeating Mrs. Powell 3 and 2. In the second flight final, Mrs. Hogan defeated Mrs. Crowe 2 and 1, while in the third flight, Mrs. Hamber won from Mrs. Nixon 6 and 5.

At the conclusion of the tournament, Mrs. Havermeyer presented the prizes.

RUTH MOVES INTO SECOND POSITION

Bambino Gets Two Hits and Two Passes to Creep Up Behind Hornsby, the Leader

Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb were the only active members of the "Big Six" in yesterday's curtailed schedule. The Babe took this opportunity to climb to second place. He enjoyed a perfect day at bat against Grove, Orwell and Powers as the Yankees whaled the Athletics, 11 to 4, getting two singles and three passes to boost his percentage to .369. Cobb got only one hit in his five trips to the plate and slumped down below Frisch into fifth place with .309.

BRAVES BUY SISLER FROM WASHINGTON

Move Is First by Rogers Hornsby to Strengthen Club—Price Believed to Be $7,500

NEW YORK, May 28.—Rogers Hornsby took the first step toward reconstructing the faltering Boston Braves yesterday when he purchased George Sisler, first baseman and crack hitter of other years, from the Washington Senators.

Announcing the acquisition at Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn, Hornsby declined to state the precise terms of the deal, but said that of course the ex-University of Michigan star's big contract had been absorbed by the Boston management.

Sisler, one of the game's most versatile players, was waived out of the American League recently, and it is generally believed the Braves got him for the interleague waiver price of $7,500.

The deal will land two former rival St. Louis managers side by side in the Boston infield, Hornsby having piloted the Cardinals during most of the years Sisler managed the Browns.

ELIZABETH RYAN WINS

BERLIN, May 28. — Elizabeth Ryan, veteran California tennis star, defeated Fraulein Hoffman, 6-4, 6-3 in a special match here yesterday.

Make Gallant Stand Againt Japanese

ABOVE is pictured the Canadian Davis Cup team, which was eliminated from the series yesterday when Capt. Tizo Toba won the first of the deciding singles matches from Jack Wright. The Dominion representatives put up a gallant fight, but lack of staying powers, due to the small amount of practice which they had had, sent them down to defeat. The team, from left to right: Willard Crocker, Dr. Ham, A. S. Cassils (nonplaying captain), Jack Wright and Gilbert Nunns.

With only seven days remaining in which to file their entries, bicycle riders intending to compete in the sixth annual bicycle road race, which will be held on June 8, are advised to do so immediately. In past years the majority of riders have always left this until the last minute, but officials are urging that it be attended to earlier this year.

Up to yesterday, fifteen entries had been received, while others are expected today. The meet, which is considered as Victoria's premier sporting event, draws the pick of speed demons from the province.

Riders of all ages may be seen participating in the race, which has proved very popular with cyclists and the sporting public.

The officials, although not all named, are expected to be the same as last year. One well-known figure in international sporting circles, Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers, world's hockey champions, has consented to act in his usual capacity, that of supervisor. Lester is quite at home mustering the riders and giving them their instructions previous to the start. The complete list of officials will be published in a few days.

CAPITALS WILL MEET HOTELMEN

First Game of Interleague Baseball Series Will Get Under Way Tomorrow at Royal Athletic Park

TILLICUMS TO BATTLE SIDNEY

In the first game of the recently organized interleague baseball series Westholme Hotel, undefeated leaders of the Commercial loop, will battle Victoria Capitals at the Royal Athletic Park tomorrow at 6:15 o'clock. Allie McGregor will umpire.

Manager Jimmie Williams will use Ray Parfitt on the mound, with Bill Moore at the receiving end. Al Mummery, first string pitcher of the Joker's camp, has been chosen to go to the hillock against the Caps, while "Speed" Behnson will complete the battery.

Tillicums, tailenders of the Commercial League, will journey to Sidney tomorrow to meet the Millmen in their sanctum, and a good battle is expected. Wade Steele will do the heavy work for the home crew and will be opposed by "Lefty" Campbell. As this is the first league game of the season to be played at Sidney a record crowd is expected.

LOUGHRAN TO GET PLENTY OF ACTION

Lightweight Champion Will Risk Title Three Times Inside of Month—To Meet Latzo

NEW YORK, May 28.—Another champion puts his crown in jeopardy for the edification and enjoyment of New York's boxing fans this week. Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, begins a busy campaign on Wednesday night when he risks his light heavyweight title in a fifteen-round battle with Pete Latzo, the Scranton coal miner, who once held the welterweight championship. The bout will be staged at Ebbetts Field, home of the Brooklyn Dodgers, with Humbert Fugazy, chief rival of Tex Rickard, as the promoter.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN

Loughran is an overwhelming favorite. After the Latzo match, Loughran will fight Jimmy Slattery for Rickard on June 14 and later will meet Leo Lomski for Fugazy.

The semi-final to the Latzo-Loughran battle will witness the return to American competition of Ted ("Kid") Lewis, of England, one-time welterweight champion of the world. Lewis is matched for eight rounds against K.O. Phil Kaplan, New York middleweight.

Football Meeting

The annual meeting of the Junior Football Association will be held in the Y.M.C.A. tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Clubs are requested to bring forward written suggestions to any amendments of the constitution or other matters in the interest of the game.

LESTER PATRICK

Manager New York Rangers, world's hockey champions, who will act as supervisor in the sixth annual Daily Colonist bicycle road race to be held on June 8. Lester has officiated in this position since the inception of the race six years ago, and is always a willing worker in the interest of clean sport.

Weekly Cycle Meet

The weekly handicap meet of the Victoria Cycling Club will be held at the Royal Athletic Park tonight at 7 o'clock. All members are asked to turn out.

GERMAN GIRL TO PLAY HELEN WILLS

Spectacular Rally Gives Nineteen-Year-Old Fraulein Right to Meet American Ace.

AUTEUIL, France, May 28.—With a victory over Mrs. M. Holcroft Watson, of England, nineteen-year-old Cecile Aussem, women's tennis champion of Germany, today earned the right to meet Helen Wills in the next round of the women's singles in the international hard court championship tournament.

The little German girl qualified to play the American champion after one of the most spectacular rallies in the history of women's tennis. After losing the first set and being within a single point of losing the match in straight sets, she developed a courageous winning spurt which swept the last twelve games in succession and won the match, 2-6, 7-5, 6-0.

FRENCH PAIR WIN

Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon won the men's doubles championship, and Francis T. Hunter, American, won easily in his first match in the men's singles.

Kea Bouman, of Holland, and Eileen Bennett, of England, who are regarded as favorites to meet Miss Wills in later rounds, also came through the day's play.

Long experience in doubles play stood Borotra and Brugnon in good stead, as these French Davis Cup veterans defeated Henri Cochet, another of the "Musketeers," and his promising young partner Rene de Buzelet, by scores of 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

DAVENPORTS TO MEET THISTLES

Connaught Cup Soccer Match Billed for Royal Athletic Park on Saturday at 2:30 o'Clock

FEW CHANGES IN SAANICH LINE-UP

Saanich Thistles, one of the three local soccer clubs entered in the Connaught Cup series, will battle Nanaimo Davenports here on Saturday in the first round. The game will be played at the Royal Athletic Park with the kick-off at 2:30 o'clock.

Followers of the round ball pastime will remember the last meeting of these two clubs when the up-Islanders snared a 3-2 victory in a Province Cup game played here. Thistles will field the same team, with two exceptions. Barney Burns, their hustling and goal-getting centre forward will be back in the game, while Mike Wagland, flashy left winger of the Dockers, has been acquired by the Saanich management.

Equimalt and Victoria City, the other local clubs in the competition, were drawn away from home. Dockers are billed to meet Kerrisdale, a third division Mainland team, and City are scheduled to clash with North Vancouver United.

CAPITALS IN EASY VICTORY

Defeat Duncan 19-7 in Vancouver Island Baseball League Game During Week-End

Pouncing on the offerings of Robinson and McKinley for an even twenty hits, including a home run by Norm Forbes, Victoria Capitals pounded their way to a 19-7 victory over Duncan in a Vancouver Island Baseball League fixture in the up-Island city Sunday.

Capitals had two barnstorming attacks, one in the fourth and one in the fifth, in each case sending eight runners over the rubber. Duncan drove over three in the second and four in the sixth. Blunt traveled the route for the locals.

Nippon Captain Puts Canada Out of Games By Defeating Wright

Tizo Toba Rallies to Win First of Deciding Singles After Dropping First Two Sets to Canadian Ace—To Play United States Team

MONTREAL, May 28.—Undaunted by early reverses, which forced him to concede the first two sets to his opponent, Captain Tizo Toba, of the Japanese Davis Cup team, battling from behind, defeated Jack Wright, of Canada, 7-9, 3-6, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4, in the first match of the two final matches of the final singles of the Japan-Canada tie at the Mount Royal Tennis Club courts today.

The triumph of the Japanese leader clinched the second round tie for his team, giving the Japanese their third victory for the cup tie, the singles last Friday having been divided and Japan winning the doubles match Saturday.

As a result of their victory, the fifth and final match between Willard Crocker and Yoshiro Ohta had no bearing on the series, except to widen Japan's margin. The two went to the courts, but their exhibition was called in the evening, after each had won two sets, Crocker winning 6-2, 6-0, and then losing 6-3, 11-9.

TO PLAY U.S. NEXT

These Japanese players leave tomorrow for Chicago, where they will meet the United States team in the American zone final, starting Friday, the winner of the final journeying across the Atlantic to play the victors in the European zone for the right to challenge France for the Davis Cup.

Once again, as in the matches Friday and Saturday, it was the superior staying powers of the Japanese representatives which told the tale. Wright, as against Ohta in the opening singles Friday, started brilliantly. While still fresh he worked out a commanding lead and was comfortably placed after winning the first two sets from Toba. But once again he started to slow down.

LOSES SPARKLE

The Canadian lost that sparkle to his play which was so noticeable when he started out. He commenced to make frequent errors, driving out of court as he battled gamely, but unsuccessfully, to capture the match before it could be prolonged too far, and before he suffered the loss of reserve strength, which was none too plentiful, as a result of the little preparation the Canadian players were able to obtain thus early in the season.

BOB MORRISON

Who won the championship of the Uplands Golf Club Sunday when he defeated Clarence Brynjolfson, 7 and 6, in the final thirty-six hole bout. Morrison played fine golf throughout the championship, winning the qualifying round and putting out some of the strongest opposition in the club.

"Big Bill" Tilden Defeats Hennessey

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 28.—William T. Tilden II, of Philadelphia, captain of the American Davis Cup team, defeated his teammate, John Hennessey, in an exhibition match in the latter's home town here today. The scores were, 6-3, 3-6, 8-6, 6-1.

George Lott, of Chicago, also a member of the Davis Cup team, and Hennessey easily won from Tilden and Paul Kong, a member of the Chinese Davis Cup team, in a doubles exhibition, 6-2, 6-1.

Here's How Armour Plays the Mashie

By SOL METZGER

Tommy Armour, Canadian and United States open champion, plays his long mashie shots from a closed stance—an unusual method. By that I men his left foot is nearer the line of flight than his right. His hands-over-the-shaft grip, described Sunday, is the reason. His swing is most compact. By that I mean his arms swing close to him as he is well over the ball. By holding his right elbow in close to his right side during the back-swing and by pushing the club back with a straight left arm he keeps the club inside the ball, that is, inside the line of flight, both on the back and down-swing. That permits him to hit through the ball from the inside (see sketch in upper left hand corner).

If you will refer to Sunday's article you will note the position of Tommy's left hand. That makes his left wrist a true hinge. So, his left swings on through along the line of flight. It cannot roll off this line and inside it just after contact, a roll that will either hook or smother the ball. This is an important point to understand when trying to master golf. Tommy also uses another pitch shot with the mashie, my subject next.

R. MORRISON WINS TITLE AT UPLANDS

Continues Great Golf of Earlier Rounds to Defeat Clarence Brynjolfson Seven and Six in Final

FRED DILLABOUGH HAS LONGEST DRIVE

Continuing his fine golf, which won him qualifying honors and which helped stow away some of the strongest opposition in the club Bob Morrison won the championship of the Uplands Golf Club Sunday when he defeated Clarence Brynjolfson 7 and 6 in the final played over thirty-six holes. A large gallery followed the pair.

The final brought together two of the younger members of the club, who have yet to reach the age which gives them the right to vote. Morrison has just turned twenty, while Brynjolfson is about four years younger.

Morrison's brilliant golf in the qualifying rounds and match play made him a heavy favorite for the title, and he came home with plenty to spare. His opponent failed to get away to a good start, and at the end of the first nine found himself five down. Coming in he began to find his form, although he finished the eighteen, six down.

LOSES MANY CHANCES

Neither golfer measured up to championship golf in the second round. Morrison was erratic and gave his opponent plenty of openings, but "Skink" could not get the breaks, and lost many glaring chances. Morrison, on the other hand, appeared to have a charmed day, and everything came his way. Brynjolfson was eight down at the twenty-sixth hole, but holed a birdie two on the twenty-seventh to go into the last nine seven down. They halved the next three holes, and the match ended on the thirtieth green.

H. G. "Scotty" MacKenzie had a walk in winning the first flight from Vic Gravlin, 6 and 4. MacKenzie played fine golf, being especially deadly on his short game and on the greens.

LONG DRIVING

Following the championship match, long driving, approaching and putting competitions for men and women were held. Fred Dillabough planted out the longest drive of 274 yards, while Louis Glazan was the only one able to place three balls on the fairway, and he won the aggregate with an average of 216 yards. Dr. C. N. Westwood has his mashie working like a charm, and placed three balls within a few feet of the pin to win both the nearest ball and aggregate. H. G. MacKenzie won the putting round with 15, while R. A. Semple was second, one behind.

Mrs. E. Jackson won the women's long driving competition, lacing one out for 220 yards, while Mrs. C. E. Geiger performed a Glenna Collett pitch with her mashie to win the approaching competition. Mrs. Wilding won the putting competition.

The results in other flights were as follows:

Second flight—C. E. Brown defeated E. Hanbury, 6 and 4.

Third flight—A. E. James defeated J. A. Watson, 5 and 4.

Fourth flight—C. V. Scrivener defeated C. H. Eve, one up.

Fifth flight—W. Mearns defeated O. H. Bell, 4 and 3.

Sixth flight—F. Lewin defeated N. W. Pirrie, two up.

At the conclusion, S. J. Halls, president of the club, presented the prizes. He spoke of the record entry for both the men's and women's championships, and also commented on the number of juniors who had entered the play.

TO INVESTIGATE FISH LADDER

Department of Fisheries to Send Inspector to Look Into Prospect Lake Addition Shortly

FISHING WILL BE STOPPED IN STREAM

Installed last year at a cost of over $600, the two fish ladders in the stream running north out of Prospect Lake into Tod Inlet furnish cutthroat trout with the means of traveling from the sea into lakes of the Highland District.

The three-mile-long stream has always been the chief source of communication between the lake and the sea, and during the course of the construction of Mr. R. P. Butchart's Gardens it was found necessary to erect dams for the water supply. Small fish ladders were erected at that time to enable the fish to traverse the dams, but proved unsatisfactory, the fish to stock Prospect Lake being held up. The stream is a great breeding place for cutthroats at certain times of the year.

Last July public spirited fishermen and the Butchart interests raised sufficient money to build two modern fish ladders. They were constructed by the B.C. Cement Company under the direct supervision of the Dominion Fisheries Department, and are said to be the finest in the province.

Fishermen have put in considerable time at the ladders when a flow of water was going over and have seen many fish working their way upstream. One ladder leads to the first dam and then to a pond, while the last ladder helps the fish over the second dam back into the stream, and so on to Prospect Lake and even farther.

ILLEGAL FISHING

Last month, while the flow of water was too low to enable fish to pass up the ladders, many congregated in pools waiting for higher water and were caught in large numbers by fishermen, contrary to the Fisheries Act. Section 36 of the Act reads in part as follows:

"No one shall in any manner in close proximity to the lower entrance of any fishway or canal, obstacle or leap, remove fish."

The Victoria and District Fish and Game Association recently received a letter from the Department of Fisheries, stating that a hatchery overseer would arrive in the city in the near future to go into the question of maintenance and operation of the ladders.

In view of the fact that a lot of money and time had been spent on the ladders, the Fisheries Department, with a view to propagating the fish, has decided that the only wise method will be to close the stream for fishing from Tod Inlet to Prospect Lake. It is understood that that will be done this season.

Section 26, Clause K2, of the special fishery regulations for British Columbia, under which this may be done, reads as follows: "The chief inspector of fisheries may at any time prohibit all trout fishing in any lake or stream for such time as may be necessary for the proper protection of the trout therein."

JOCKEYS INJURED AT CALGARY TRACK

Two Riders Hurt in Upset—Mar Lodge Wins Memorial Handicap and Makes Track Record

CALGARY, May 28.—A spill, which resulted in two jockeys being injured, the establishing of a new track record and the victory of Mar Lodge in the A. K. Morrison Memorial Handicap, the feature event of the programme, enlivened the races held under the auspices of the Prairie Thoroughbred Breeders and Racing Association at Victoria Park Monday afternoon, the fifth day of the Spring meet.

Mar Lodge's victory in the feature event was a notable one as the four-year-old gelding beat nine other Western Canada-breds in the six and one-half furlongs.

The spill happened during the sixth race, when Galeta fell rounding the first turn. Jockey Bunch was thrown and fractured two ribs and had to be assisted to the clubhouse. Jockey Laboyne fractured his leg when Evelyn Brown crashed into the fence. As the riderless Galeta came around the track a second time, E. A. Armstrong was knocked down as he was trying to head off the mare.

LACROSSE TEAMS CLASH TONIGHT

C. P. S. Will Battle Sons of Canada in Opening Senior Fixture at Royal Athletic Park at 6:30

C.P.S. and Sons of Canada stickhandiers will clash at the Royal Athletic Park tonight in the opening senior tussle of the Victoria and District Lacrosse League at 6:30 o'clock. Sidney, the third team in the league, will play their first game on Thursday, when they battle the Sons on their home ground. Frank Smith will referee both games.

Canadian Puget Sound have a strong squad lined up. Sons of Canada have a number of last year's stars back in harness as well as a sprinkling of new material. The Sons will line up as follows:

A. Noel, Jack Taylor, Kennedy, Viggers, Cann, Blair, Chapman, Godwin, John Taylor, Oliver, Nicol, Gilson, F. Noel, Burnett and Plater.

WEATHER MAN HALTS SOFTBALL GAMES; TO BE RESUMED TONIGHT

The bad behavior of the weather man necessitated the cancellation of softball games scheduled for the ladies' section of the City League last night, while operation in the Westholme Hotel League were also suspended.

Tonight the Rainbows will journey to Langford to meet the team from the suburban district. Harmony and Normal School will clash at Central Park, lower diamond; Axioms and Adanacs, at the corner of Queen's Avenue and Quadra Street. St. Saviour's and New Method Laundry will meet at Victoria West Park tomorrow.

Two games will be played in "A" Section tonight, as follows:

Cordova Bay vs. Cameron Lumber Company, at Central Park, upper diamond. Umpires, E. Stock and T. Forbes.

Hillcrests vs. Foresters, at Work Point. Umpires, Steve Redgrave and W. Allan.

All games start at 6:30 o'clock.

PIGEON RACING

The Victoria and District Racing Pigeon Club held a race from Eugene, Ore., last Saturday, an air line of 302 miles. The first bird made about 1,150 yards per minute. They were liberated at 6:32 a.m. The time of arrivals are as follows:

		H	M	S

Stewart & Sons win all pools. J. Grimston is leading in average for The Daily Times and Daily Colonist trophies.

The next race will be from Medford, Ore., an air line of 425 miles. The best birds from this race will be entered in the Provincial Derby which takes place on June 30 from Mount Shasta, an air line of 500 miles.

BOYS' RACING CLUB

The Oaklands and District Boys' Racing Pigeon Club held its fifth race from Parksville, Saturday, a distance of ninety-six miles. Ten birds competed. The winning bird, "At Last," owner by J. Winger, 2584 Graham Street, covered the distance in 2 hours 1 minute. W. Bryan donated specials for the first three birds. C. Rowe's "Thundercloud" was second in 2 hours 5 minutes; third, C. Jordan's "Happy," 2 hours 8 minutes; fourth, J. Corbett's "Old Country," 2 hours 45 minutes. Six members competed. C. Rowe still holds his unbroken lead for the average. The next race will be held from Courtenay next Sunday, a distance of 140 miles. Birds will be liberated at 9 a.m. This race will complete the average, for which a special prize has been donated by Dr. Kelly.

DRY MOON PAYS BOX CAR FIGURES

Wins Last Race at Aurora to Reward Backers $47 Straight and Good Place and Show Money

AURORA EXPOSITION PARK, May 28.—Favorites and second choices captured the first six races today, equitable prices showing up on every winner. The last price figures were of the box car number variety. Dry Moon paid $47, $16.60 and $12.10 across the board.

Tia Juana Doggett had another good day astride two winners and two seconds.

A fast field of sprinters accepted the challenge in the fifth feature event. Stampdale once more demonstrated his liking for any kind of track, making the best time of any three-quarter event today.

She Could Not Work HEADACHES Were So Severe

Mrs. A. Riehl, Burstall, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with very severe headaches, and sometimes I could not do my work.

"One day a friend told me about and advised me to give it a trial. I decided to do so, and after taking a few bottles I found it had done me a world of good, and I haven't had any headaches for a long time now."

SJORTS WEEK TO BE HELD AT HOT SPRINGS IN JUNE

All arrangements have been completed for a sports week at Harrison Hot Springs, commencing Friday, June 1, with a ladies' golf tournament, and concluding Sunday, June 3, with mixed foursomes.

A prize will also be given for a tennis tournament to be played off over the week-end.

Saturday evening there will be the joint golf and tennis dance in the ballroom of the Hot Springs Hotel, followed by a swimming competition in the pool.

The tournaments and competitions are open to all-comers.

"DUSTY" MILLER TO MEET LYALL

Colored Boxer From Seattle Will Battle Victoria Boy Next Saturday

"Dusty" Miller, colored sensation of the Pacific Coast, and Jimmie Lyall, of Victoria, have been signed for the main event of next Saturday's professional boxing card which will be presented by the Tillicum Athletic Club. Miller, who's home is in Seattle, arrived yesterday and commenced training last night at the Tillicum gymnasium, 1305 Broad Street. He will work out one hour nightly from 8:30 to 9:30.

Jimmie Lyall is already in the city and will start his training career tomorrow at the gymnasium from 7:30 to 8:30. Lyall is a local boy, who has had considerable experience in the squared circle. He was a sparring partner of Jack Dempsey in his last come-back fight with Gene Tunney for the world's heavyweight championship.

On the supporting card will be Ernie Woodley, Danny Pastroe and "Scotty" Sinnott, all of whom will be matched with American opponents.

Edward Durnan, Famous Oarsman Dies in Toronto

TORONTO, May 28.—Edward Durnan, aged fifty-five, who for ten years held the rowing championship of Canada and the United States, died late last night in a hospital here. A nephew of the late Ned Hanlon, another famous oarsman, Durnan had won trophies in many parts of the world. As an amateur he won everything that came his way, and after cleaning up the major events at Saratoga, N.Y., he became a professional. Fifteen years ago he won the championship of America from a large field and has since held the title, although he quit rowing about four years ago.

French Pair Wins Doubles at Auteil

AUTEUIL, May 28.—Francis T. Hunter, American tennis star, today reached the third round in the men's singles of the international hard court championships with a straight set victory over Combemale, of France. Scores were 6-0, 6-3, 6-2.

Cecelie Aussen, the young German girl star, defeated Mrs. Watson, of England, 2-6, 7-5, 6-0, thereby gaining the right to play Miss Helen Wills in her next match.

Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, French Davis Cup tennis stars, won the men's doubles championship in the international hard court tournament here by defeating Henri Cochet and the youngster, R. Debuzelet, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Prince of Wales And Partner Win

NORFOLK, England, May 28.—The village golf team of Brancaster, composed of a greenkeeper and a gardener, suffered a decisive defeat in a foursome over the course of the Royal Norfolk Club today. The victorious team, representing the home club, was made up of the Prince of Wales and his equerry, Major Leigh. The winning margin was four up and three to play. Robert Lake, the greenkeeper, is seventy years old.

German Soccer Team Defeats Switzerland

AMSTERDAM, May 28.—The German soccer team today showed strength which may carry it close to the final in the Olympic soccer competition by shutting out Switzerland in a first-round match, four goals to none. In a second match, Egypt defeated Turkey, 7 to 1.

WALTER HAGEN DRAWS IRE OF GOLFING BODY

Secretary of Irish Association Says Withdrawal of British and U.S. Champion Unsportsmanlike

MANY STARS ON HAND FOR PLAY

NEWCASTLE, Ireland, May 28.—About 100 players, including British and Irish professionals, will start tomorrow in search of the Irish open golf championship.

Walter Hagen

George Duncan, the present champion, turned in the lowest score today as the players swung around the beautiful course at the foot of the Mourne Mountains in their practice rounds. Besides Duncan, Archie Compston, Abe Mitchell, Ted Ray and most of the other stars of British golf will compete in the event. The course is in perfect condition.

Walter Hagen, the American player, is in bad again. The Golfing Union of Ireland is up in arms because of his sudden withdrawal from the open championship on the grounds that he is too tired from his Continental tour to do himself justice.

AGREEMENT VIOLATED

In a statement to the Associated Press tonight, Alan Kidd, secretary of the union, charged Hagen had broken faith with them and had violated an agreement to play in the Irish open provided that an exhibition was arranged for him in Dublin last Saturday.

Immediately after this match Hagen left Ireland and today telegraphed Kidd that it would be impossible for him to compete in the Irish open.

Hagen proposed to contribute all the funds he received from his exhibition in Dublin to any Irish charity the committee might select, but the committee tonight decided not to accept Hagen's money because they considered his action unsportsmanlike.

COLWOOD GOLFERS DEFEAT NANAIMO

Interclub Match at Up-Island Town Ends in Favor of Victoria Club by Seventeen Points

Colwood golfers journeyed to Nanaimo Sunday, when they met the Nanaimo Golf Club in an interclub match, and emerged victorious by a 48 1-2 score to 31 1-2. Colwood secured a seven-point margin in the singles when they counted 27 1-2 against the home team's 20 1-2, while in the fourballs they extended their lead by ten more points, when they piled up 21 against the up-Islander's 11. Uncertain Weather Forces Cancellation Of Senior Baseball

The uncertain weather conditions of yesterday afternoon forced the senior amateur baseball officials to call off the scheduled fixture between the Old-Timers and the Sons of Canada. The next meeting will bring together the Eagles and Sons of Canada. The game will be played on Thursday night, and a great battle is expected. In the last meeting the teams battled to a one-all draw, in a one-hit game. Whitside and Holness, who starred in the last fixture, will start again, it is expected.

INSPECTION TO BE HELD TODAY

"THE SMART SET" PROVES REAL WOW

William Haines Plays Polo Role in Screamingly Funny Film at Capitol

William Haines scores another knockout. The star of "West Point," "Spring Fever" and "Brown of Harvard," enters on a new sport with a skill and nonchalance as screamingly funny as it is romantically dramatic.

The sport is polo. In "The Smart Set," which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, polo, its antecedents, environment and education is the whole picture—and boy, what a wow!

On the stage this week are two exceptionally fine vaudeville acts, which include a return engagement of Mantell's Mannikins, Frank Hales, a fine baritone soloist, and Harold Bechtel, the singing master of ceremonies. The concert orchestra will also be featured. Mantell's Mannikins will offer many new turns, including comedy numbers, and it is expected that many who were unable to see this act on a previous visit, will avail themselves of this opportunity. The act returns to Australia and the Continent at the conclusion of its contract with the Capitol Theatres of Canada.

Coliseum—Vaudeville

Crystal Garden — Swimming and Dancing.

COLUMBIA THEATRE An "all-beautiful" film attraction, "The Heart of a Follies Girl," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, starring Billie Dove, surely deserves the description. On its display of feminine charms alone the tired, business men of the audience would award it a beauty prize! Supporting the "screen's most beautiful woman," Miss Dove, is Mildred Harris, at the head of nearly fifty of Hollywood's most shapely chorines. While "The Heart of a Follies Girl" is a veritable beauty pageant, beauty is a mere background for exceptionally appealing romance and thrilling plot intrigue.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE An entertaining story, perfect cast and skilful direction combine in making "Millionaires," the Warner Bros. production which opened yesterday at the Playhouse Theatre, a picture worthy of the entire family taking the evening off to see. The story, suggested by the E. Phillipp's Oppenheim novel, "The Inevitable Millionaires," tells the amusing tale of an East Side tailor's adventures, with his family, in the rarified atmosphere of Fifth Avenue, when they become millionaires overnight. George Sidney, Louise Fazenda and Vera Gordon are featured in the cast.

COLISEUM THEATRE The new production of "Tillie's Punctured Romance," now showing at the Coliseum Theatre has a big cast headed by W. C. Fields, former Follies and vaudeville star, Chester Conklin, Louise Fazenda; it also includes Mack Swain, Doris Hill, Grant Withers, Babe London, Tom Kennedy and others. The stage presentation this week is a one-act problem play by Richard Blomfield, entitled "Sathanus Suggests." Cast of characters are James Clatterbuck (a man with a future), Eric Bryce, a stranger, and Richard Blomfield (a man with a past).

VARIETY THEATRE A beautiful and optically-appealing dance number never performed before on stage or screen is presented by Billie Dove in First National's "An Affair of the Follies," which is the film attraction at the Variety Theatre. She enacts the role of a chorus queen, surrounded in these scenes by fifty-two beautiful girls from the famous Hollywood Music Box Revue. Lewis Stone and Lloyd Hughes are featured with them in the picture.

GLORIOUS GLORIA IN BIG FEATURE

Miss Swanson's Portrayal of "Sadie Thompson" Wins All Hearts at Dominion

Many years from now, regardless of what the future may produce in screen entertainment, picturegoers will continue to talk of "Sadie Thompson," Gloria Swanson's latest picture which had its premiere local showing yesterday at the Dominion Theatre.

"Sadie Thompson" is that kind of picture. It will live long in the memories of all who see it and, unless all indications are meaningless, it will establish a niche for itself among the few really epochal productions in screen history. For this new picture, directed by Raoul Walsh, is not only the most sincere, most dramatic most entertaining of all Gloria Swanson's pictures; it is one of the most compelling stories ever written and its unusual appeal has been registered on the silver-sheet with maximum effect.

BRITISH TROOPS TO LEAVE CHINA

VANCOUVER, May 28.—Sir Victor Mackenzie, colonel in command of the Second Battalion, Scots Guards, at Shanghai, who arrived in Vancouver on the Empress of Russia, Sunday, stated here today that he believed all British troops would be recalled from China before the end of the year.

"There is no evidence of any trouble there, now," said Sir Victor, "and no indication that it will reoccur. The need for the defence force is practically nonexistent, and I think that by Christmas time our soldiers will be out of China."

Sir Victor, himself, has officially severed his connection with the Orient. His four-year term of command has expired.

Glee Singers Given Unstinted Praise By Toronto Critic

This is what Mr. A. Bridle, musical critic of The Toronto Star, says about the Westminster Glee Singers, coming to the Royal Victoria Theatre June 1 and 2:

"Six little boys and nine men, called the Westminster Glee Singers, gave a programme of traditional Victorian and modern part songs, glees, catches and madrigals last night in Massey Hall. These singers gave but one sacred number—by request. The choir consists of six boy sopranos, three men altos, three tenors and three basses. The balance is just about perfect; the blend very fine; the tone color rich and varied. Those male altos are a rare variety even in the species. Seldom do women altos in a chorus sing with such a beautiful texture of tone. The chief basso is real bass; one is basso-baritone; the other baritone. These voices sing full chorus with the six boys with wonderfully varied effect; the best traditions of unaccompanied part-singing; crisp attack, delicate shading, quick changes of tone quantity and tempo, fine crescendos and fairly big climaxes. Best of all they sing with informal ease. Every appearance on the platform was different. The programme was extensive, variegated and double. Every piece was encored—some of them twice. One of the prettiest quaint things was Hatton's 'Forget-me-not part song; the most descriptive in realism, 'The Bells of St. Michael's Tower,' often sung here, with real harmonics in the belfry; the jolliest was a group of sea chanteys, 'Clear the Track,' 'Tom's Gone to Hilo,'—much like a spiritual—and 'Billy Boy'; the funniest was the 'Catch Celia's Charms,' done by a quartette."

Young Girl (reading newspaper): "Oh, grandma, isn't this murder case thrilling?"

Her Grandmother: "Ah, my dear, murders are not what they used to be in my young days."

TRIBUTE PAID TO CAMPAIGN

C.P.R. PRESIDENT COMMENDS FIRE PREVENTION DRIVE IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Mr. E. W. Beatty, K.C., Backs Canadian Forestry Association in Its Educational Work

A tribute to the forest fire prevention campaign being carried in British Columbia was voiced by Mr. E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in a statement made during his visit to the Pacific Coast.

"Public education towards preventing forest fires is showing a marked progress in British Columbia," President Beatty said, "and it is pleasing to note the intense efforts being made by the Canadian Forestry Association in its educational work. This has my warmest sympathy.

"Forest fires are a grave menace to national prosperity and the instilling in the minds of adults, and, particularly, children, of the need of greater care with fire in the woods, is a major factor in the formation of a national forest policy. It seems to me that this can only be accomplished by a continuous educational programme, so that the danger of fire is continually impressed upon the public mind

"The railways have joined wholeheartedly in the movement to spread the gospel of fire prevention both among their own employees and the traveling public. This has resulted in a great decrease in the number of fires along the railway right-of-way. As thousands of campers and fishermen travel by rail each Summer, the railways have had an opportunity also of assisting materially in the campaign with very gratifying results.

"I believe that the time is coming soon when public opinion will be so strong against carelessness with fire in the forests of British Columbia that preventable fires will be reduced to the vanishing points," concluded Mr. Beatty.

"Out of Town"—

THE holiday season is approaching. Once more everyone is leaving town for the lakes and woods, or to go abroad. The problem recurs of shutting up the house and of making arrangements to take care of business or personal matters. Nothing prevents the mind from being at ease, or spoils enjoyment, so much as uncertainty as to what may be happening in your absence.

A Trust Company Offers Many Services

Important papers are easily protected from all risk by placing them in a steel box in our security vault.

In solving other problems a Trust Company can give far-reaching assistance. The investment of funds, the collection of dividends, the supervision of real estate—are some of the services it has to offer.

An interview with one of our officers before you leave on your vacation would entail no obligation and would perhaps suggest a way of making a definite settlement of your private affairs, which would free you from all worry.

CANNERY LAW IS SET ASIDE

Supreme Court of Canada Rules That Sections 7-A and 18 of Dominion Fisheries Act Is Ultra Vires

DECISION AFFECTS LICENSING RULES

OTTAWA, May 28.—The Supreme Court of Canada in a judgment handed down today decided that Sections 7-A and 18 of the Dominion Fisheries Act, 1914, are ultra vires of the Parliament of Canada.

The sections declared ultra vires required the obtaining of an annual licence for the operation of a fish cannery for commercial purposes and for operation of salmon canneries or salmon curing establishments in British Columbia for commercial purposes. Under these sections, the licences were issuable by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Judgment on this point was unanimous.

The court divided on the question of the discretionary power of the minister to grant or refuse a licence to fish in British Columbia. A majority of the court decided that any British subject resident in British Columbia who is not otherwise legally disqualified, has the right to receive a licence if he submits a proper application and tenders the prescribed fee.

Non-British subjects resident in the province are not eligible to receive a licence to operate a herring or pilchard drag seine or purse seine, or to take abalone or crabs, or in salmon fishing, act as a boat puller, or be otherwise employed in a boat used in salmon drifting, or as a helper, or in any other particular capacity in operating a purse seine or drag seine that is being used in salmon fishing or to fish for salmon for commercial purposes, or by means of trolling. None of these licences can be granted to any person, unless he is a British subject resident in the province, or is a returned soldier who has served with His Majesty's Canadian navy or army.

MINORITY OPINION

A minority of the court were of the opinion that the minister has a discretionary authority to grant or refuse these licences to British subjects resident in the province or to returned soldiers. Chief Justice Anglin, with Justices Newcombe, Rinfret and Lamont, constituted the majority opinion on the question of issuing fishing licences, while the minority judgment was supported by Justices Duff, Mignault and Smith.

The court decided further, that as Sections 7-A and 18 of the Fisheries Act were ultra vires, no answer was required on the question as to whether the Minister of Marine and Fisheries had authority to issue a licence for the operation of a floating cannery, constructed on a float or ship, as contradistinguished from a stationary cannery constructed on land and, if so, whether the minister was entitled to make the licence subject to any restrictions, particularly as to the place of operation of such cannery in British Columbia.

The questions decided today were on a reference from the Dominion Government to the court. The reference arose out of a decision by Mr. Justice Macdonald, of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, acquitting the Sommerville Cannery on a charge of operating a clam cannery without the licence from the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

ULTRA VIRES

Justice Macdonald held that Section 7-A of the Fisheries Act was ultra vires of the Parliament of Canada.

Justice Newcombe, in delivering the majority judgment, makes the following comments in regard to Section 7-A which required the obtaining of an annual licence for operation of a fish cannery for commercial purposes.

"It is difficult to realize that the purpose of this section could have been the raising of money by taxation; certainly that was not the only purpose. The tax viewed as such is merely nominal and could not, I should think, have been expected to indemnify for the cost of raising it. I have no doubt that the section, if it can be sustained at all, must be referred to the power which parliament exercises in the regulation of sea coast and inland fisheries.

"Undoubtedly, Parliament has the exclusive authority to regulate what falls within that description, and one sort of regulation might be a licensing requirement. But a fish cannery is not, according to any of the definitions, or in practice embraced in a fishery, sea coast or inland. It is for the preservation and marketing of the fish when caught and landed that a cannery fulfills a commercial purpose."

Justice Newcombe, in applying the principles which have been laid down as to the enumerated powers of Parliament, states:

A CIVIL RIGHT

"I think it is undoubted that in the absence of any restricting consideration, the right to operate a fish cannery for commercial purposes is a civil right in the province where the operation is carried on."

The Dominion Government asserted in its factum, but did not urge in court, that the right might be sanctioned under the power to regulate trade and commerce. Mr. Justice Newcombe concluded with with the statement that the "power to enact Section 7-A is not to be found in any of the enumerations an dis not possessed by the Dominion to one of the provincial enumerations."

Sections 18, which relates to salmon canneries and salmon curing establishments, viewed as a regulating provision, is governed by the considerations which determine the validity of Section 7-A.

Mr. Justice Newcombe on the question of fishing licences affecting the public right of fishing and in some cases appearing to extend to private right, or several fisheries, states in regard to the regulations:

"They should not be interpreted to derogate from those rights further than may be requisite to give the regulations their necessary and due effect. Those who are, according to the regulating provisions, declared to be ineligible, may not, of course receive such licences, but where an applicant is eligible within the regulations and not otherwise disqualified, there is no express provision for withholding a licence if he submit a proper application and pay the prescribed fee."

Justice Newcombe declares the regulations in question are "of the nature of statutory rules," which went no further "than to impose a general requirement for licences for which a fee is to be paid as a condition to the exercise on the right of fishing."

In conclusion Justice Newcombe states:

"I am not satisfied that they should be interpreted by implication further to limit that right by making the issue of the licences discretionary in the judgment of the licencing authority."

Liner Wins by a Nose

ALTHOUGH leading by 150 miles in the race of six passenger liners to open the St. Lawrence 1928 season, the Cunarder Aurania had to anchor sixty miles north of Quebec, due to ice and darkness. By morning other liners had caught up and the Cunarder won only by a few minutes. Here is Capt. G. W. Melsom, O.B.E., R.N.R., skipper of the Aurania, holding the gold-headed cane presented to him by the Quebec Harbor Commission in honor of the liner's victory on April 22.

GRAIN TRAFFIC SHOWS INCREASE

Total Carried by C.N.R. Is Bigger Than 1927 Figure by More Than 14,000,000 Bushels

WINNIPEG, May 27.—With more than nine and one-half million bushels of grain still in storage in country elevators in Western Canada, the movement of grains over the lines of the C.N.R. since August 1 last exceeds by more than fourteen million bushels the movement of the corresponding grain year of 1926-27.

Since August 1, 1927, the Canadian National Railways have moved 139,000 cars containing 184,000,000 bushels, as compared with 129,000 cars and 170,000,000 bushels over the same period of the corresponding grain year.

Grain now in store in country elevators amounts to 9,583,000 bushels, as compared with 2,943,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year. The quantity in storage is divided as follows: Manitoba, 1,210,000; Saskatchewan, 5,473,000, and Alberta, 2,900,000. Since August 1, 1927, the movement of grain to Vancouver has totalled 25,316 cars.

Stoll-McCracken Exploring Party At Port Moller

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., May 28.—Word has been received here by radio that the schooner Effie M. Morrissey, carrying the Stoll-McCracken scientific expedition, entered Bering Sea this week, and is now at Port Moller, where they expect to be joined by E. H. Stoll, who went North on a fast boat as far as Balbo Bay. He portaged across the peninsula to Herendeen Bay and was planning to reach Port Moller in a small boat. The Morrissey is to remain at Port Moller for about two weeks.

Battleship Is Now En Route To California

The United States battleship Pennsylvania completed her four-day visit to this port yesterday morning, sailing for San Francisco at 8:15 o'clock.

The big battleship will return to Victoria on June 21 and 22 with members of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps of the University of Washington aboard for a training cruise.

Change of time on E. & N. Ry.—May 23, trains depart 9:15 a.m. and 5 p.m.

CHINA COAST RESIDENTS WANT FASTER C.P.R. SERVICE

Empress of Russia Passenger Discloses Scheme for Summer Colony in Gulf

If the Canadian Pacific liners plying the Pacific could only cut another day or two from their running time between British Columbia and the Orient, wealthy residents of the China coast would flock to this province in great numbers every Summer, according to Mr. Percy Fowler, Shanghai business man who arrived here Sunday on the Empress of Russia en route to England.

Mr. Fowler disclosed that some time ago a group of leading English residents in Shanghai and Hong Kong formed a plan to buy one of the islands in the Gulf of Georgia for conversion into a Summer colony for refugees from the torrid Orient Summer.

The project is still alive, but dormant, he believed, expressing the opinion that it would need little more than a slightly faster transpacific service to renew it.

Pointing out that the present nine-day passage would have been considered impossible a few years ago, he predicted that growth of business would, in time, undoubtedly bring about even faster connection that would make British Columbia the holiday choice of China coasters.

Anti-British feeling in China has largely disappeared during the past year, according to Mr. Fowler, who is head of the world-wide Brunner-Mond Company's chemical interests in China.

Next year, however, or shortly thereafter, feeling against Britons may again be intense, he said, as dislike of foreigners seems to run by cycles among the Chinese. Last year it was directed against the British, while now the Japanese are getting it, he pointed out. In another twelve months it may be the turn of the United States, he added. Meanwhile, although anti-foreign feeling generally remains acute, the relapse of the sentiment against Great Britain has resulted in improved conditions for British firms in the Orient, he said.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tides rise or fall continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any time, add thirty feet to the height of high water as given above.

Drifting Tug Rescued From Bridge Crash

VANCOUVER, May 28.—Drifting crewless on the Fraser River, the tugboat Spirit Wood was prevented in the nick of time from crashing into the Lulu Island bridge Saturday afternoon. The craft, which was picked up by a tug owned by Gilley Brothers, was released from its moorings by boys playing on the wharf, according to S. S. Long, manager of Long & Sons Towing Company, who reported the incident to the New Westminster police.

Wrecked Boat Is Salvaged; Cargo of Ice

VANCOUVER, May 28.—Wrecked within a few miles of Lund on Friday, the fish carrier Aga, of Vancouver, Captain Fred Ives, was raised by the Vancouver Drydock & Salvage Company's workboat Skookum No. 2, on Sunday. Details of the accident have not been received here. The Aga left Vancouver for Lund late Thursday with a cargo of ice. She is a vessel of ten tons.

APRIL TRAFFIC THROUGH CANAL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—During the month of April, 1928, 531 commercial vessels and sixteen small launches transited the Panama Canal. Tolls on the commercial vessels aggregated $2,187,607.82, including $171.36 collected on supplemental bill for a transit in a previous month, and on the launches, $116.65, or a total tolls collection of $2,187,724.47.

The daily average number of transits of seagoing vessels for the month was 17.7, and the daily average tolls collection, $72,914.55. The average amount of tolls paid by each of the commercial transits was $4,119.47, as compared with $4,102.16 for the month of March, 1928. In these averages the $171.36 of supplemental collection is not included.

REEFS YIELD WRECK TRACE

TWO BODIES OF CREW OF STEAMER KAMLOOPS FOUND

Discovery Clears Up Mystery of Disappearance of Vessel in Furious Lake Storm

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., May 28.—The reefs of Isle Royale, in Lake Superior, have yielded the wreckage of a steamship and the bodies of two members of her lost crew of twenty-two, to give a grim explanation of the disappearance during a lashing storm last December of the Canadian package freighter Kamloops.

One of the bodies was identified as that of J. Dourneault, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. The other body has not been identified.

A further search of the shores of the island is to be made in the hope of finding additional bodies.

The fate of the Kamloops and her crew of twenty men and two women had been a mystery since the steamer, bound for Duluth with a cargo of wire, was seen to disappear in the churning, icy waters of the lake during a terrific storm last December 3.

The Luckiest Lady

By RUBY M. AYRES

THE STORY THUS FAR

Biddy Saunders—the Little Flapper—always called her young adopted mother, Marna Paget, the Luckiest Lady. For she thought Marna had everything her heart could wish—youth, beauty, wealth, and the love of a devoted husband. But Marna was unhappy. She had married without loving George Paget, and three months later had met Hugh Hubbard and given him her heart. Neither of them had wanted to hurt George. Hubbard had gone to China. But after years of separation they realize their love is stronger than ever. The Little Flapper, as she grows older, worries a little about Marna, and her friend, the Big Flapper, Dolly Benson, has suggested to her that Marna is not happy with George.

VIII—GEORGE'S SURPRISE

"Well, you two children," he said fondly, as he put an arm round each of them, "are you looking forward to your party?" He grinned down through his monocle, first at Marna and then at the Little Flapper.

"Splendid thought of ours, adopting Biddy, don'tcherknow," he said happily, as usual quite forgetting that it had been entirely Marna's idea; and then, as she did not answer, he let his monocle fall with a little agitated click against a waistcoat button and asked: "What are you thinking about? Give you a penny for your thoughts, Marna."

"They're not worth so much," Marna answered. She gently disengaged herself and moved away.

George Paget loked hurt.

"Anything the matter, Biddy?" he asked anxiously.

Biddy shook her head.

"I don't think so. Perhaps she's worried about the party. I know she's dreadfully anxious for it to be a success."

"Everything Marna does is always a success," George answered proudly.

"I know," Biddy agreed. "But she worries, all the same."

Marna's husband smiled suddenly, and pressed the Little Flapper's arm.

"I've got a surprise for her," he said mysteriously.

Biddy looked up.

"Not another diamond ring?" she questioned in dismay. "She can't wear half those she's got now."

Paget chuckled.

"No, not diamonds at all this time." He kept his secret like a mischievous schoolboy for yet another moment, then he bent down to the Little Flapper and told her: "Hugh Hubbard's in London, and he's coming to the dance tonight." And then, seeing the blank look in her eyes, he added: "You remember Hugh Hubbard, don't you?"

"Hugh Hubbard!" Sudden remembrance illuminated Biddy's face, and she caught her breath. "Why, of course I do! He went to China, didn't he? Why, of course I remember him! The night I looked over the balusters, just after I came to you——"

She broke off, flushing at the poignant reawakened memories.

So much had happened since that night when, trembling with excitement, she had watched the crowd in the hall below. The years since then had been so happy that many of the incidents which had puzzled and so inexplicably hurt her had been pushed into the background and almost forgotten until now, when George Paget's unexpected mention of Hubard's name had opened the closed door of memory in the Little Flapper's brain and showed her once again the picture of Marna in her blue frock with its frilly skirt; of Marna's graceful, downbent head, close to Hubbard's broad shoulder, as if she were either very tired or very sad, and of Hubbard's steady eyes, hard with resentful pain, carefully avoiding looking at her. Then out of the past she had heard again the sound of Marna's voice:

"You are not very polite. You might at least pretend to be sorry to leave—us—all."

"There is no need for me to pretend." Then Marna's voice again: "So it's all over, Hugh—all over! Oh, I can't bear it—I can't bear it!"

"Marna, for God's sake! Don't you think I am suffering, too?"

It was as if someone had drawn back a shutter from the past, bidding the Little Flapper look into it once again and see things in a clearer, more understanding light than she had seen them five years ago.

Marna and Hugh Hubbard had loved one another; always she had vaguely known and tried to ignore it, but now the truth forced itself back upon her with almost stunning force.

Marna loved a man who was not dear George Paget! Marna loved a man who had gone away and left her alone for five long years. The Little Flapper felt as if someone had turned the sane, solid earth over beneath her feet, leaving her breathlessly and helplessly trying to steady and readjust it.

Hardly knowing what she was doing, the Little Flapper turned and walked away. Her thoughts were in a whirl, and her heart was beating with nameless apprehension.

Was this what Marna had meant when she said that there were things in life which no amount of money could buy? Things which not all the wealth in the world could give to one for one's own, even for a moment? Hugh Hubbard had not been home for five long years! Did people love one another faithfully for so long without once meeting?

Five years seemed an eternity to the Little Flapper. She told herself passionately that even if Marna had cared for Hubbard, then she could care no longer. Surely time changed and cured everything?

George Paget had followed her down the long room, and spoke again anxiously.

"Don't tell Marna about Hubbard. It's to be a surprise for her. She always liked him; they always got on well together. I want to give her a surprise, don'tcherknow!"

The Little Flapper turned. She was quite pale, and her eyes held something of their old-scared look.

"Is he really coming?" she asked painfully.

Paget let his monocle fall. He always did when he was agitated.

"'Course he is!" he protested indignantly. "D'you think I'm jokin', Biddy? Here"—he seemed suddenly to become aware of her agitation—"what the deuce does it matter to you?" he demanded blankly. "You look quite upset, and the fellow's old enough to be your father!"

"I know," Biddy tried to laugh. "I know he is. But I shall be pleased to see him again. I liked him very much," she declared with an effort.

Paget roared with laughter.

"Liked him very much! Pooh, you were a baby when he was home. I don't believe you can remember what he looks like."

The color rushed to the Little Flapper's cheeks.

"I do—of course I do!" she protested. "He's tall and he's got dark hair, and ever such a nice smile! How could I forget him, when his photograph has always been on the mantelshelf in Marna's sitting-room?"

Marna's husband laughed and pinched her soft cheek.

"Well, don't lose your heart to him," he said playfully. "Hugh Hubbard's a confirmed bachelor, besides being twenty years too old for you. Yes, he's coming all right but mind you don't tell Marna. I want to surprise her, don'tcherknow!"

He left her hurriedly as the first guests arrived, and the Little Flapper stood looking after him with a pale face and trembling heart.

"Marna ought to be told. She ought to be told," she whispered to herself passionately; but she knew that she had not the courage to tell her.

* * * * *

Hugh Hubbard arrived late. The dancing had been in full swing for nearly two hours before he came. The Little Flapper had been up to her room to powder her nose, and was dancing down the big staircase when the front door was opened to admit him.

A manservant was taking his suitcase and hat and coat.

"He's going to stay!" was Biddy's first panic-stricken thought, and her heart gave a sudden leap of fear.

If Marna still felt as instinct told the Little Flapper she must have felt all those years ago, how could she bear to have him staying in the house?

Hubbard was in evening dress, and Biddy heard him tell the servant that he had changed at his hotel.

"Very good, sir. I will find Mr. Paget."

"Don't trouble. We shall meet directly."

Biddy came down the remaining stairs and walked toward him. She supposed he could not be expected to remember her, but as soon as their eyes met she knew he had done so.

"Why, it's the Little Flapper," he said, for from the very beginning everyone had adopted George Paget's nickname for Biddy.

"Yes." She flushed as she laid her hand in his. "And you haven't altered a bit," she said, with a warm sense of gladness.

"Nor you!" he laughed. "And yet it's five years since I went away."

"It seems ages," the Little Flapper said.

The noisy band had stopped, and people were streaming out into the hall as they had done that memorable night five years ago.

The Little Flapper looked hurriedly round. She wanted to warn Marna that Hugh Hubbard had arrived; she could not bear the thought of her coming unexpectedly face to face with him, or the thought that perhaps prying eyes might witness her sudden shock—perhaps her supreme happiness. She wanted to run to her and tell her, too, that Hubbard had not altered at all, not one tiny little bit—that he had just the same smile and the same steadfast look in his eyes.

"I'll go and find Marna," she began, then broke off with a little stifled exclamation as she heard Marna's laugh and then her voice. The Little Flapper took a frightened step towrds Hubbard, laying her hand on his arm.

"Oh, she doesn't know you're coming," she whispered tremulously. "Oh, if you could just wait a moment while I tell her——"

Tomorrow—Marna Faints.

"Y" DOES GREAT WORK IN INDIA

Mr. Harold G. Beall Informs Gyros Big Problem Confronts Great Britain in India

The Young Men's Christian Association is doing a great work in India, according to Mr. Harold G. Beall, formerly physical director of the local Y.M.C.A., who recently returned from Calcutta, where he had spent fourteen years.

In addressing the Victoria Gyro Club, at its luncheon yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce Cafe, Mr. Beall stated that the Government of Bengal, controlling the destinies of 40,000,000 people, asked the physical directors of the Y.M.C.A. to prepare a programme of compulsory physical education for all children. This was done, and requests from colleges and other institutions had been filled later.

Mr. Beall declared that big problems confronted Great Britain in her efforts to please the masses in India in regard to home rule.

Referring to the great work being done by Great Britain to fit India for self-government, the speaker told of the operations of the reform bill introduced nine years ago, which delegated certain authority to the Indians. The ten-year period expires next year and the Royal Commission headed by Sir John Simon, is now making a survey of Indian affairs and on the report action will be taken as to the future government of India.

Mr. Beall said that the problem of deciding what course to follow was causing Great Britain much concern, owing to the unusual state of affairs in the country. In addition there were two dominating parties, the radicals, who desire home rule at once, and the nationalists, who are willing to follow the lead of the British Government.

Announcement was made of the performances which will be given by the Westminster Glee Singers next Friday and Saturday nights, June 1 and 1, under the auspices of the Victoria Gyro Club.

BRITISH LEGION LONDON PARADE

LONDON, May 28.—The British Legion yesterday had its annual rally in honor of those who died overseas in the Great War. The Duke of York headed a parade two miles long, which marched past the Cenotaph at Whitehall after memorial services had been held in Westminster Abbey.

The Prince of Wales attended a similar service at Scarborough at the head of six thousand members of the Legion.

The celebration was attended by Marshal Foch and Admiral Jellicoe.

The Prince took this occasion to inaugurate his new plan of using an airplane as a means of saving time between his many official engagements. He had an engagement to dine last night with the King and Queen at Sandringham, and he flew to King's Lynn in a two-seater Bristol plane, piloted by a lieutenant of the Royal Air Force. From King's Lynn he motored to Sandringham.

THE O-Cedar Polish Mop collects all the dust but never scatters it. The padded frame prevents scratching, the soft cotton fingers treated with O-Cedar Polish clean, dust and polish at one operation—without bending, without stooping.

Try "Canada Dry" today as a dessert

THIS summer weather has a way of getting hold of you just about lunch time and taking away your appetite. You don't want much. But you want something. "More to be eating," you say, "than because I'm hungry."

Now here is a suggestion. Order a light lunch with a green salad. Just plain lettuce with dressing or something with fruit in it.

And then, as a dessert, drink a bottle of "Canada Dry." How it does "perk" you up!

You'll be surprised how it refreshes you. Its subtle flavor instantly appeals to you. Its dryness quenches your thirst. Its mellowness simply sets you right with the weather and the world in general. Because "Canada Dry" contains the finest quality of Jamaica ginger and other absolutely pure ingredients it is really good for you in hot weather. Note how well it mixes with other beverages. Try it with luncheon today!

The Repair Expert speaks his mind

Your tires—

are just as important as your engine

—and that means the care of them

GOOD tires will stand up to a lot of abuse. So will a good engine. But abuse shortens the lives of both.

Treat your tires as you do your engine. Give them a little care all the time and a thorough overhauling once in a while.

Get to know the correct pressure at which your tires should be inflated. It depends on the size of the tire and the wheel load. Keep to this pressure. Don't guess it—gauge it.

Have your tire service man give your tires a thorough overhauling inside and out once a month. He will locate any bruises or breaks in the cord fabric and other minor injuries. A slight repair in time may easily save a blow-out later.

The better care you take of your tires the cheaper tire mileage you will get.

Improvement has been added to improvement in Dominion Royal Cord Balloons. Intensive research, long experience, new machinery, all are adding mileage yearly to these tires. Latex treated web cord takes more rubber—but adds strength and durability to Dominion Royal Cords.

40H NURSERY STOCK, PLANTS, ETC.

HEADQUARTERS FOR RELIABLE NURSERY STOCK
FRUIT AND ORNAMENTAL

WHILE it is now rather late for planting Fruit Trees and Deciduous Ornamentals, this is the best time for the planting of Conifers, such as Cedrus Deodara and Libani, English and Irish Yews, Junipers, Cryptomerias, Retinosporas, etc., etc., and all the Broad-leaved Evergreens, such as Rhododendrons and Araleas, Hollies, Laurels, Veronicas and many others.

These are shipped with a solid ball of soil adhering to the roots, and at this time when they are just starting to grow the root growth is most active, and they take most kindly to new surroundings if looked after when transplanted.

Come out to the Nursery on Winkinson Road and make your own selection from the growing stock. Ask for free catalogue.

TUCKETTS SHOW BIGGEST PROFITS

HOWARD S. AMBROSE

HAMILTON, May 21.—The annual meeting of The Tuckett Tobacco Company, Limited, was held today at the head office in Hamilton, and the sixteenth annual report was presented with statements of the company's affairs.

The management was congratulated upon the results of the year's business, which showed the largest profits in the history of the company, also for the strong liquid position which had been maintained as shown in the annual report.

Mr. Howard S. Ambrose, the president, in addressing the shareholders, commented upon the growth of the business, especially with regard to the increase in sales of the company's brands of cigarettes, and expressed the hope that the growth in volume of business which had been experienced during the past few years would continue. The retiring directors were all re-elected.

At a meeting of the directors, held subsequent to the annual meeting, all officers of the company were re-elected.

after taxes, charges and preferred dividends, but before depreciation, against $219,447 in April, 1927.

California Crude Oil production week ended May 26 averaged 640,000 barrels; daily increase 5,300 daily over previous week and highest in eight months.

New Haven April surplus, after charges, $820,847, against $678,327 in April, 1927; four months, $2,081,887 against $908,245.

Banks and trust companies of 2nd Federal Reserve district notified by F. R. B. offering of securities will be made shortly.

NEW YORK SUGAR

NEW YORK, May 28.—Spot raw sugar market was quiet early today, and in the absence of business, prices were nominally unchanged. Cuban holders were offering at 4.52, but small lots of nearby duty free sugars could be had at 1-16 of a cent less or 4.46 delivered.

The refined sugar market was quiet. Prices were unchanged at 6.05 to 6.10 for fine granulated.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, May 28. — Butter and Cheese steady, eggs unchanged.

Cheese—Westerns, 19¾ to 19¼c; Easterns, 18¾ to 19½c.

Butter—No. 1 Pasteurized, 35 to 35½c.

C.N.R. EARNINGS

MONTREAL, May 28.—An increase in net earnings and decrease in the operating ratio of the Canadian National Railways are shown in the official summary of earnings and expenses for April and for the four-month period since the beginning of the year.

During April gross earnings were $19,811,399 against $18,913,095 in April, 1927, an increase of 4.75 per cent.

The net earnings in April were $2,884,286, against $2,737,262 in April of last year, an increase this year of 5.37 per cent. The ratio of operating expenses to gross earnings was 85.22 per cent. against 85.53 per cent in April, 1927.

Shipping Gold

NEW YORK, May 28.—A shipment of $15,000,000 in gold will leave for London Wednesday on the Aquitania, it was learned today. The transaction is of a private nature, it was said at the National City Bank, which is shipping the metal, and no details were forthcoming.

The shipment is the second within a week and brings to $20,000,000 the total shipped during the newly-revived flow of gold to England.

WELL-PROPORTIONED CHILDREN

It is rather distressing to walk along the streets observing the number of sickly, undernourished, deformed, toxemic individuals suffering from the long-continued effects of a pernicious diet. This is particularly heartrending to me because I realize that these unhealthy beings could practically all be splendid example of physical development and correct education.

I have given a number of lectures before high school student bodies, and I would estimate that about two-thirds are starving for food out of which they could build proper bone and cell structure. The other third appear to be overweight, but nevertheless lacking in mineral elements.

These misshapen, sickly-appearing high school students are the results of many years of wrong dieting. If a child is brought up on white bread and jam, there is little chance for him to have a strong bony framework. I could observe in the bowlegs, knock-knees, anaemic, pimply complexions and slouching backs how little some educational systems are doing in the practical instruction of food chemistry.

Some of the lower grade schools have recently installed dietitians to supervise the food that is given in the school, but although some improvement over no supervision, the chief aim of these dietitians is to produce spectacular gaining reports, and as a consequence the children are stuffed with quantities of acid-forming, mucus-forming foods which add weight but, unfortunately, no health. The increase in weight is usually caused by unelimnated waste poisons, and is directly responsible for the many cases of swollen tonsils, adenoids, appendicitis, and tendencies to the children's diseases.

I believe, however, that the mother should be chiefly responsible for preventing this condition of acidosis. Growing children must be provided with foods containing calcium, silicon and iron. All of the cooked and raw greens contain these important minerals, without which a child cannot build healthy bone, nerve or blood tissues.

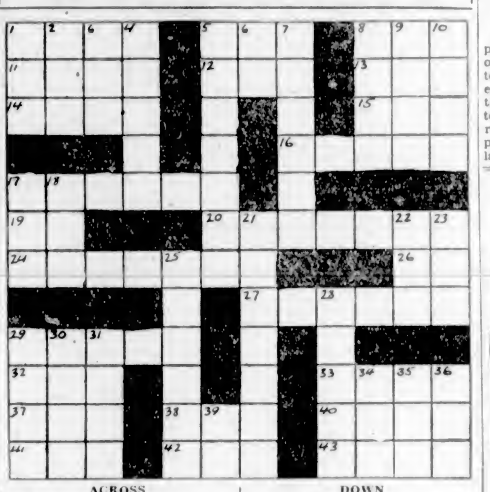

Not only is it important to select the right foods, but it is necessary to combine them properly, and I advise the complete elimination of the white flour products and white sugar from the child's diet. The craving that children have for sugar is a positive indication that they are not being fed on a properly balanced diet.

The menus which I publish each week in this column will provide wholesome tissues for school children. I have written an article called "School Lunches," which I shall be delighted to mail to those who send a stamped envelope.

Mothers should make a thorough study of these dietetic problems from health books and from the columns of health advice found in the more progressive newspapers.

CALL MONEY RATE 6 1-2 P.C.; PRICES DROP

Announcement Made Toward Close of Day — Decline Follows — Extreme Losses Run to 27½

BOND PRICES ALSO REGISTER DECLINE

NEW YORK, May 28.—Marking up of the call money rate from 6 to 6 1-2 per cent, the highest since July 2, 1921, brought about one of the sharpest reactions of the year on the New York stock exchange today. Extreme declines in some of the high priced specialties ranged from 10 to 27 1-2 points, part of which were recovered, while scores of standard rails and industrials sold down 1 to 5 points. Restoration of the full five hour trading session today was accompanied by only a moderate increase in the volume of trading, the day's sales falling just below 3,500,000 shares.

The higher call rate, which was announced at the last hour, came in the midst of a bullish demonstration in Radio common, which had carried that stock up to a new high record for all time at 211 3-4. That stock subsequently broke to 193 then rallied to 198 1-2, 1-4 net.

Wright Aeronautical broke from 184 1-2 to 159 and rallied to 170 off 15 1-2 net. Curtiss broke from 134 to 119 and closed at 120 1-4 off 17 1-2 net, Adams Express broke 13 points on a few sales, and net declines of four points or more were recorded by American Agriculture Chemical preferred, American Linseed, Atlantic Refining, Case Threshing, Christie Brown, Continental Can, Dupont, General Motors, Green Cananea Copper, Indian Motorcycle, Nickel, Montgomery Ward, National Biscuit, Otis Elevator, Rossia Insurance, Studebaker and Vanadium.

Earlier in the day there was strong demand for the coppers with Magma Nenicotte, Calumet and Hecla, Butte and Howe Sound moving in new high ground, but the gains were cut down or cancelled in late trading.

Rails yielded with the industrials but the losses were not as large.

Foreign exchange trading was extremely quiet. Sterling cables held steady around $4.88 3-8.

Prices sagged in the bond market today under influence of higher money rates. Time money remained at 5 1-2 per cent while call loans jumped to 6 1-2, the highest since 1921. Trading continued fairly light, although the volume was greater than on Friday.

Toronto Mines

(Supplied by R. P. Castle & Co., Ltd.)

TORONTO, May 28.—Outside of a few specialties, trading on the standard stock and mining exchange today was soft. The general tendency was reactionary and losses of one dollar to a few points were registered. Newbec provided the day's entertainment in volume, selling as high as 59, reacting to 47, and closing strong at 54 to 55. At 25.50 to 25.70 Noranda sagged off $1 from the opening price of 26.50. Rumors are heard in the street that Bidgood is looking good and that a report will be given out shortly which will be very optimistic. Bidgood at 87 to 88 was firm, selling up as high as 92 during the morning session.

Pend Oreille at 16.50 to 16.75 was unchanged. At 53 Ajax Oil and Gas was off 10 points. International Nickel at 91.50 to 92.50 was down 5 points. Amulet at 3.29 to 3.30 was off 14, Barry Hollinger at 80 to 81 was off 9, Crown Reserve at 45 to 47 was off 7, Granda at 25 1-2 to 26 was off 1 1-2, Howey at 90 to 94 was down 5, while Kirkland Lake at 1.64 to 1.85 was three points weaker. For some inexplicable reason, Hollinger still continues to sag at 14.95 to 15.00; Hollinger was off 15 points. This stock is now paying about 9 per cent dividends at its present price. Malaractic at 1.43 weakened at the close 3 points. Abana at 2.92 to 2.95 was down 9 points. Sodbury Basin at 8.95 to 9.00 was off 40 points.

Thompson Cadillac at 92 to 95 was off, while Teck Hughes at 9.91 to 9.95 showed a loss of 24 points. Although recent reports in regard to Wright Hargreaves' mining operations have been very optimistic, it is now rumored that millheads are down somewhat. This no doubt has affected the Wright Hargreaves market, which sold off 24 points to 4.06. Sheritt Gordon at 5.70 to 5.75 was down 10. After the spurt which many stocks enjoyed last week this decline was to be expected. McIntyre was the only strong spot on the board.

VANCOUVER EXCHANGE

(Supplied by B.C. Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

VANCOUVER, May 28.—The stock market was weak today, with prices generally tending lower.

Topley Richfield, a new mining issue with a par value of 50c, was listed on the Exchange today and was traded in to the extent of 22,000 shares between 55c and 57c, the close being at the latter figure.

The oil issues were under pressure, Home Oil, on a trade of 3,750 shares, dropping back to $3.05, a net loss of 23c. A. P. Consolidated eased off 8c to 60c on sales of 4,100 shares, and Dalhousie closed unchanged at $3 on a light demand.

Pend Oreille was dull and closed at $16.10, down 40c. Porter-Idaho eased off 3c to 62c.

Big Missouri continued in demand, but on sales of 7,900 shares slipped back to 66c, down 3c. Cork Province, Kootenay Florence and Grandview were quiet and unchanged to half cent lower.

Chicago Grain

(Supplied by B.C. Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

CHICAGO, May 28.—Wheat: Chicago now holds much more wheat than last year, but at that has only about twelve per cent of the total visible. The decline in total visible stock was material, but remaining supplies look large compared with last year. Foreign news continues bullish, Russia being the new bullish factor. Kansas prospects still rosy, but Nebraska not so good because wheat heading with short heads. A few spots in the Spring wheat country had showers but no general relief yet. Trade was very largely local, which gave the market a weak tone until the last hour.

Unless Spring wheat territory is relieved soon there will likely be another bull market with Spring wheat conditions as the basis.

Oats: In the country oats are very scarce. Chicago has half the total United States commercial stocks. Cutting of Texas oats has begun, and these early oats are said to be not turning out so well. Late oats there promise better.

Corn: Local supplies decreased nearly a million bushels last week and are now about ten and one-quarter million bushels. Last year they were seventy per cent larger.

The little run of corn coming to market and finding a good demand. Local sentiment is inclined to the bear side, however, in spite of our favorable positions.

Liverpool wheat due to open morning 2¼ to 2¾ lower.

Whitney Letter

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, May 28.—Whitney, of the Wall Street Financial Bureau, says today: "Last week we passed through one of the inevitable technical reactions which are needed to keep bull markets healthy. Now that it is over and the past three days' market action has reconverted all of last week's bears, I see no reason why we should not use the moderately lower prices which developed in the final hour of the past week's last session to continue to purchase sound stocks which have not advanced too radically, from last week's low prices, since the prospect for this week is for a continuation of the advance, which, incidentally, is likewise the prospect for the coming month. I expect that money will gradually begin to ease so that it will not be long before we again will have five per cent.

"In the coming week the oil group should come into its own. The steel group, under leadership of U.S. Steel should inaugurate the most sustained group advance which will be recorded this year. The coppers, under influence of the highest price for metal in five years, will continue their advance and be led by lead and zinc stocks.

"Packard Motors is again recommended for purchase. In the oil group I again suggest Sinclair and S.O., of New York. American Agr. Chem. pfd. has established a new top for the year, at which figure it should be bought, not sold. For the year which ends June 30 the company will report the best earnings of the past seven years."

STOCK OPINIONS

J. S. Bache—With copper news continuing favorable this section of the list would appear to be entitled to higher levels.

Block Maloney—Would not follow stocks up.

Hornblower & Weeks—We doubt that this particular phase of the market will show more than additional irregularity, as the recovery movement has hardly progressed far enough to call for a reversal of sentiment which at the moment is favoring the buying side.

SILVER MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 28.—Bar silver, 61 5-8. Mexican dollars, 47 1-2.

Winnipeg Grain

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, May 28.—Wheat: With Liverpool and Continental markets closed, export business still lacking, combined with the light showers in many districts in Saskatchewan and Alberta, and a heavy rain in the Edmonton district and further rains forecast for Western Canada, everything combined to give the wheat market a heavy tone today and prices suffered a sharp decline. Opening prices were 1-4 to 1-2 lower with plenty of wheat for sale and these offerings continued until the market broke from 1 3-4 to 2 cents, the July position being the weakest month.

On this break shorts covered and a reaction of about one cent took place, and while a little strength was shown when the United States visible showed a good decrease of 3,477,000 bushels, the bulges were difficult to hold as offerings increased on all upturns. It is quite evident, with the large supplies of old crop wheat still in this country, and the prospects for the new crop more or less excellent, it is going to be difficult to hold present price levels unless foreign demand broadens out materially. In United States Spring wheat territory some showers were received in Minnesota and Montana and showers were forecast for South and North Dakota.

Local market is acting nervous and erratic, the country is selling wheat, and the trade are awaiting the outcome of the weather conditions. The local cash market was again very dull. There was a little demand for the No. 4 and lower grades with spreads a fraction better, but these grades are pretty well cleaned up and are hard to buy, the bulk of the surplus now being No. 3 Northern which has been a drug on the market all season. World shipments last week totaled 15,594,000 bushels, of which North America cleared 8,268,000 bushels. Believe wheat can be sold on the upturns. Winnipeg futures closed 1-4 to 1-2 lower, having firmed up in the closing moments in sympathy with the upturn in Chicago. Canadian visible increased 914,000 bushels. Wheat deliveries into the clearing house today, 1,222,000 bushels. Farmers still marketing nearly 500,000 bushels daily.

Coarse Grains—These markets were very dull today with no business from any quarter. The feature was the break in May oats, which closed 3 1-4 down, a natural reaction from the upturns Saturday. The deliveries of 163,000 bushels may have had something to do with it. Deferred oats closed unchanged. Barley closed 5-8 lower to 1-8 higher, and rye 2 5-8 to 3-8 lower.

Flax—This market was somewhat easier, and while trade was very small, there was not much pressure. Closing figures 1-4 to 1 1-8 cents lower.

New York Stock Letter

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, May 28.—During the early dealings mixed movements were featured in the stock market, but some of the leading issues were freely offered, while coppers, rails and oil shares showed a tendency to rally. The prospects of firming money rates appeared to have a dominating influence, and the greater part of the day many of leading issues reflected some nervousness over this anticipating, and in the final hour when the call money rate was advanced to 6 1-2 per cent, which was the highest in many months. Freer offerings of stocks made their appearance and the general market turned sharply downward.

Pressure on the aeroplane shares was an early feature. Radio around midday showed good recuperative powers but later was again freely offered. Nash and Chrysler in the forenoon were in good demand and helped to steady the motor section; later, however, they trended with the main body of stocks.

The fact that London, Berlin and Paris markets were closed meant that dealings in the copper metal market were quiet, but with a scarcity of metal again a factor. Good inquiry in the domestic market was reported at 14 3-4 cents a pound delivered and export copper was reported in good demand at 15 cents a pound c.i.f. Hamburg.

Money flurries are likely to continue as a dominating factor at least for the balance of the week and freer selling of recently favored industrial shares would seem to be the logical thing to expect.

ADJUSTMENT OF TANGLE SOUGHT

Campbell River Logging Company's Access to Sea to Be Made Subject of Negotiation

ADJOURNMENT TO ALLOW SETTLEMENT

The dispute relative to the route which the logging railway of the Campbell River Logging Company will take in order to haul its timber to Menzies Bay is again the subject of negotiations between that company, and the logging corporation of Bloedel, Welch & Stewart. Early yesterday afternoon a halt was called in the proceedings before the Minister of Public Works and Railways, Hon. W. H. Sutherland and the Attorney-General, Hon. A. M. Manson, in the hope that an amicable settlement may be reached between the two companies.

An adjournment was accordingly asked for until Thursday next, while the matter was discussed between the two companies.

It was without any reluctance that the members of the Government allowed the holding over of the hearing, for the deciding of the matter in dispute is not the most agreeable matter for the Minister. Mr. Manson expressed the hope that the two parties might get together in the meantime before the adjourned hearing, so that it might not be necessary for the Government to pass on the matter.

He explained to the interests represented that the Government did not want to interfere with legitimate operations in any way.

"If you can get together in this matter," he added, "by all means do so."

He pointed out that members had been hearing the witnesses on the matter for the best part of three days. It was not a matter that the Government wished to have anything to do with if it could be avoided.

FAVORED SOUTHERN ROUTE

Mr. Nels S. Loughheed, during the hearing of the matter before the members of the Government, was called upon to give an oponion relative to the two routes for the railway across the holdings of the Bloedel, Welch & Stewart Company. He was called in as an operator of very long standing so that something might be learned of the general practice in such matters.

It was with the greatest reluctance, he said, that he took part in a matter of this kind where a dispute existed between two operating companies. He, however, favored the southern route, the one that was remote from the existing line of the Bloedel, Welch & Stewart Company.

When the adjournment was taken for the purpose of seeking a solution, independent of the Ministers, Mr. S. Smith, the manager of Bloedel, Welch & Stewart, was giving evidence, showing the ways in which his company would be prejudicially affected were the Campbell River Company to persist in the proposal to construct its line of logging railway alongside of the existing railway of his company.

Under cross-examination by Mr. E. C. Mayers he contended that the other route proposed, and which is known as the southern route would be by far the better one for the invading company. The placing of the two lines alongside of one another, he contended, would materially interrupt operations as far as his company was concerned. He was ready to advance the opinion that even if the southern route cost some $100,000 more to construct, that it would be an advantage to the constructing company extending over a term of ten or fifteen years. He would so advise his directors, he said, were he in the position of the Campbell River Company.

FIRE RISKS

There was, he pointed out, the complication that arose owing to fire risks as between two lines operating close together. To get the best results from a logging crew, Mr. Smith said that it was well to have no conditions that would allow of the "establishment of an alibi." There would be a slowing down in operations, he contended, by the operation so close together of the rival companies.

Just as the cross-examination of Mr. Smith was nearing a conclusion, the announcement was made that it had been decided to try to settle the matter without further proceedings.

Winning Float Was School Pupils' Work

HAPPY VALLEY, May 28.—The Sunday school float of the Mission Church was first prize-winner for rural floats in the May 24 parade in Victoria. The float was beautifully decorated with cedar and arbutus, the throne being formed to resemble a peacock. The two queens were Elsie Butt and E. Hutchinson, with the following as attendants: Dorothy McKay, Mary McKay, Shirley Smith, Bernice Jacobs, Gladys and Kitty Savernan and Grace Allen.

Road Work Proceeds At Qualicum Beach

QUALICUM BEACH, May 28.—Road surfacing has made good progress to date, and the next few days should see this work completed through Qualicum Beach and beyond. The hotels were full over the week-end, and the warm bathing and boating were thoroughly enjoyed by hundreds of tourists as well as local residents.

The Log Cabin, which has recently bren acquired by Mr. Finley, of Duncan, has been kept extremely busy the last few days.

DRAMALOGUE IS EVENT OF WEEK

ENTERTAINMENT AT QUALICUM BEACH ENJOYED BY LARGE AUDIENCE

Excellent Performance Given Under Auspices of B.C. Dramatic School

QUALICUM BEACH, May 28.—An outstanding event of the golf tournament week here was the special dramalogue given at the Qualicum Beach Hotel on Saturday, under the auspices of the British Columbia Dramatic School. The play given was Frederick Lonsdale's "On Approval," and a strong cast had been brought together for the occasion. Mrs. Charles E. Wilson took the part of Maria Wislack, Miss Kathleen Agnew was Helen Hale, Captain Hugh Webster was Richard, and Major Bullock-Webster the Duke of Bristol. Mrs. H. F. Crowe explained the action of the play.

A distinguished audience filled the large dining-room of the hotel, and the play was followed with keen enjoyment. Major Bullock-Webster, in his introductory remarks, thanked General Noel Money for having managed this entertainment in such delightful surroundings. In thanking the cast he said that Mrs. Charles Wilson had been a tower of strength to the dramalogues in Victoria for several years, and that, but for Miss Agnew's interest and support, the British Columbia Dramatic School probably would not now be in existence, and the valuable work it carried on would have been lost to the province. Captain Hugh Allen had brought honor to the Dramatic School by winning the gold medal last year in the festival.

Inspiring Address At Ladysmith Given By Dr. Clem Davies

LADYSMITH, May 28.—Rev. Clem Davies, of Victoria, visited Ladysmith, on Sunday afternoon, and delivered an address to a most appreciative audience on the Agricultural Grounds, taking for his subject: "Take Up Your Trouble." The speaker, in his humorous and instructive address, impressed upon the gathering the importance of exercising patience in their numerous troubles, and at all times to try and avoid worrying over them, as they were generally of a temporary nature. Owing to the unfavorable weather conditions a great many were unable to be present, and were very much disappointed in not hearing such an interesting address by a speaker of such repute. The Victoria City Temple Band was in attendance, and rendered selections which were very much enjoyed. During the proceedings a collection was taken up, the proceeds of which will augment the funds of the band.

Nanaimo Obituaries

NANAIMO, May 28. — Many friends and relatives attended the funeral of the late Andrew Slater, which took place yesterday at 3 o'clock from the family residence, Needham Street, under the auspices of the local Lodge No. 109, S.N.P.Y., of which the deceased was a charter and prominent member. The funeral services were conducted at the home and graveside by Rev. W. R. Welch, and the following friends of the deceased acted as pallbearers: Messrs. J. Tytus, J. Grey, A. Lehti, K. Orcharick, B. Addison and L. Dybeck.

Yesterday afternoon at 2.30 the remains of the late William Hogan, whose death occurred in Vancouver on Wednesday last, took place from the Baptist Church, interment taking place in the family plot, Nanaimo Cemetery. The funeral was conducted by the Ashlar Lodge, A.F. & A.M., Rev. A. J. Bowick conducting the services. The services were held at the church, with the singing of "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "My Faith Look Up to Thee." The church was packed to capacity with friends of the deceased, and many were unable to gain admission, afterwards following the cortege to the graveside where the impressive services of the lodge were witnessed. The casket was laden with many beautiful floral tributes. The following close friends of the deceased acted as pallbearers: Messrs. W. Thompson, W. Lewis, J. Cowle, J. Rollo, J. Shaw and S. Morrison.

A Farewell Party

NANAIMO, May 28. — In the I.O.O.T. hall last evening a farewell party was held in honor of Mr. Joe Lindsay, who leaves on an extended business and pleasure trip to Scotland and other European countries. A most enjoyable evening was spent in singing and playing games and at the close of supper Mr. Robert Henderson, mine superintendent of Cassidy, with a few pleasant remarks, presented "Joe," as he is known here, with a beautiful ring and lapel stud as a little remembrance from the many friends present.

LUXTON MEETING

LUXTON, May 28.—The annual hall meeting will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the hall. The present committee—Mesdames Page and Madders and Mr. Oliver—will hand in their report and the committee for the ensuing year will be elected. The chief item of discussion will be the installation of electric light, for which the sum of sixty dollars a year is asked. All residents are asked to attend.

AT NEW CATHEDRAL

COLWOOD, May 28.—St. John's Church Sunday School, Colwood, attended the Children's Festival held at Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, on Saturday last. The vicar wishes to thank all who so kindly assisted in the transportation.

Change of time on E. & N. Ry.—May 29, trains depart 9.15 a.m. and 5 p.m.

YOU probably wouldn't call it being half-fed! Breakfast, luncheon and dinner in your home are probably all that could be desired so far as satisfying you is concerned. But do they satisfy your body? Do they give you all those varied food properties your body requires for energy, strength, proper development? In an alarmingly large number of cases modern meals don't—to an alarming degree!

There is one food from which you can be sure your body receives the vital nutritive elements. And it's one of the most delicious foods you ever tasted! This food is Grape-Nuts.

Grape-Nuts is made from whole wheat and malted barley, specially prepared so that it is easy to digest. It supplies dextrins, maltose and other carbohydrates for energy; iron for the blood; phosphorus for teeth and bones; protein for muscle and body-building; and the important Vitamin-B.

Your grocer sells Grape-Nuts—in wax-wrapped packages from which it is ready to eat with milk or cream. Four teaspoonfuls—costing less than one cent—is a serving. Eat it regularly—beginning to-morrow.

Grape-Nuts
for Delicious Nourishment
Made in Canada

Crisp Foods Are of Vital Importance

Doctors and dentists are constantly warning us that we must eat some crisp foods that require chewing. Grape-Nuts must be chewed—and its pleasant "crunchiness" and delightful flavor tempt you to chewing. This starts digestion in the mouth—where it should start—and gives to teeth and gums the exercise which alone can keep them in healthy condition.
